BY MARK SULLIVAN,
WASHINGTON. May 14.—(Special.)—The bill of Senator Harris, of Georgia, to limit Mexican immigration on the same quota basis as now operates with respect to European countries. The number of Mexicans permitted to come in will be based upon that portion of the total present population of the United States that is of Mexican origin. The computation is expected to admit about 1,500 to 1,900 Mexicans annually.

Same Bill Rejected.

Precisely the same bill, in effect, that was passed on Tuesday by 51 to 16 had been, on April 21, rejected by 56 to 11. In the meantime many by 50 to 11. In the meantime many by 50 to 11. In the meantime many terror that the bill. Some of these efforts were believed by the bill's friends to be inspired by a wish to sidetrack the bill. One amendment passed at one time wiped out the entire present national critics having the limiting imprincipal. wiped out the entire present national origins basis for limiting immigration from all countries. Other amendments attempted to extend the limitation now applied to Mexico so as to apply to Canada and all Latin-America. The result of the complex snarl into which the senate got itself has been cynically described. It has been said that the senate completely "boxed the compass;" and that every senator who wished to be on one side or both sides of all the questions involved has been able to do so. In the or both sides of all the questions involved has been able to do so. In the end, however, all the snarl has been undone, and the simple measure limiting Mexican immigration has been passed by the senate and will undoubtedly be passed by the house when brought before that body.

There are many reasons why it will pay you to select a Six. A six-cylinder engine runs smoothly-saving both the chassis and body from the harmful effects of vibration. It is more flexible in traffic. It requires less gearshifting. It maintains high speeds more easily. And-because of its lack of vibration and noise-it is far more comfortable for the driver.

The Chevrolet Utility Truck gives you all the outstanding superiorities of six-cylinder performance-for it is powered by Chevrolet's great 50-horsepower six-cylinder valve-in-head engine. And, in addition, it brings you the advantage of advanced modern design in every unit of the chassis.

It offers a 4-speed transmission, with a power take-off opening; a full ball bearing steering mechanism; a sixinch channel steel frame that is 153/4 feet long-accommodating extra large bodies without the need for extensions; a rugged spiral bevel gear rear axle with inspection plate on housing; four long semi-elliptic springs, mounted lengthwise, and giving support to the frame at all four corners; and scores of additional features that reflect the most modern truck engineering.

Menace of Federal Control SURGEONS TO MEET Seen by Highway Chairman

J. W. Barnett Addresses County Commissioners at Annual Meeting in Valdosta.

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 14.—That W. Barnett, chairman of the state highway board, sees the menace of complete federal control of all highway work for the future was voiced by him in his speech Wednesday at the opening of the 16th annual convention of the Association of County Commissioners of Georgia, ty Commissioners of Georgia.

The note of alarm was sounded when Chairman Barnett said;

"The policies of the highway board as to the expenditures are being shaped in a large measure by the federal bureau of public roads, and the highway board in a majority of instances has concurred in their opinions. When we consider that $5,300,000 is being invested in these projects by the federal government, the right by the federal government, the right to direct, in a measure, cannot be denied them, yet I see a tendency to assume complete control in the prem-ises. Georgia is bearing more than 50 per cent of the cost of federal aid projects and should at least bave

Judge Cann digressed long enough to urge the adoption of a law percounty commissioners to enact mitting county commissioners to enact local legislation just as city councils enact ordinances for the government of municipalities. He asserted that this was one of the needed modern reforms and that counties should insist upon such enactment.

Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session was given over entirely to oratory of the constructive order.

The first speaker was Charles M. Strahan, of Athens, who spoke informatively on road building and urged the county commissioners to carry on with a vigorous program of building the best type of roads where needed. Hamp McWhorter, of Lexington, also urged that there be no let-up in the constructing of highways during the next few years.

H. G. Culverhouse, of Birmingham, president of the Alabama Association County Commissioners, brought greetings from his state and expressed gratification over the excellent results obtained in Alabama after the state organization was perfected a little more than a year ago.

Members enjoyed the annual banquet tonight which was followed by a dance.

Alleged Remarks Before

Bibb Grand Jury.

MACON, Ga., May 14.—(P)—
Jesse Harris, well-known Macon attorney and campaign manager in the recently defeated $1,000,000 municipal bond election, late today was cited for contempt of Bibb superior court.

Judge H. A. Mathews late in the afternoon signed an order directing afternoon signed.

ernoon signed an order directing the attorney to show cause before him at 11 o'clock May 23 why he should not be adjudged in contempt for remarks he is said to have made to the Bibb county grand jury last Friday while that body was in the midst of an investigation into allocations.

while that body was in the midst of an invergration into alleged irregularities in the election, which took place March 18.

Mr. Harris, concluding his own testimony before the probing body, is quoted as having commented to members of the grand jury: "By the way, I was just informed by a witness that came out of the grand jury room that a certain man in this room asked him whether I had said anything to him about what his testimor—would be before this grand jury, and I want to say here, in the presence of the grand jury and the solicitor general, that the man who asked that question and made that intimation is a dirty rat."

Out of town Contacts from your office desk

How often do you neglect out of town business contacts because of the time necessary to reach the distant city...? How often do you start a trip dreading the prospects of hours of travel that face you...? How often do you reach the man you are to see too fagged by the long journey to work efficiently? But you saysuch trips are necessary? Think twice about that. The chances are that many of the trips you've made in the last few months could have been avoided and the business done as well-by telephone. More and more men are investigating the possibility of telephone contacts, and more and more business is getting the long distance habit. The Chattanooga branch of a large New England insurance company uses the long distance continually to keep in touch with its home offices and often sells large policies requiring immediate attention without leaving the city. An Atlanta florist uses the service constantly in placing orders for flowers to be delivered out of the city—while the customer waits in the store—thereby assuring him of complete satisfaction. What long neglected contact can you make—now —by telephone? A call likely can be put through while you hold the receiver to your ear and the distant veice come to you over the wires as clearly as if you were across the desk from the man you call.

Why not ask the Business Office-today-for your copy of this valuable book? No obligation to you.

To help business men whose time is too valuable for non-productive hours of travel, we have a book-let called "Traveling by Telephone." It shows how large companies in practically every business have successfully used the long distance telephone and explains clearly how you can use it to reduce costs, increase sales and enlarge profits. A request to the Business Office will bring your copy immediately.

FOX STAGE OFFERING FOR WEEK IS RIOT

Her lover's life hinged on a letter

Her lover's life hinged on a letter in the stage coach's mail pouch—if the sheriff should receive it, all was lost! So the girl, Mona Maris, risked everything to save her man, Warner Baxter. She did, but what followed is better told on the screen at the Fox, where these two popular stars are featured in the latest Fox Movietone all-talking romance of the old west, "The Arizona Kid," now playing.

Fanchon & Marco's "Art in Taps" idea on the stage at the Fox this week is setting a local precedent for applause. Every one of the line acts on the bill this week is encored time and again. Numerous requests have been received from delighted Fox patrons that "Art in Taps" be held over another week, but this will be impossible due to previous bookings.

AGITATING TAX REFORM.

The newspapers of the state are howing an acute interest in the problems of state taxation. They are quite generally agreed that the present system is a chaotic one, inequitable in many features, and especially is unjust and burdensome to the owners of real estate.

The Thomasville Times-Enterprise goes so far as to hope that the general assembly of next year will change the system and that "the major portion of the state tax will be derived from incomes, to our way of thinking a much more desirable, efficient and just tax than Bohemia. that which is now being utilized for the revenue of the state."

The subject should be agitated thoroughly by the property owners of the state, and especially by farm owners, and they should refuse to nominate and elect any man to the legislature who does not pledge himself to fair and just tax reform.

There is a town named Mako in Hungary. It is the center and market place of an extensive agricultural district. One of the chief products of the region is onions. In fact, Mako is famous for its onions all over eastern Europe. Now it so happens that there has come about a great slump in the onion business. Egypt and above all Holland are supplanting Hungarian onions in the European market, with the result that the people of Mako have fallen upon hard times. Immense piles of onions lie rotting along the railway tracks; a most distressing sight. The men of Mako and the farmers of the neighborhood thought recently that something ought to be done about it. They held a mass-meeting where, as is usual at such conventions, they viewed with alarm and passed resolutions. It was decided to send a delegation to Budapest. The delegation went, and was received by the minister of agriculture. He told the delegation to Budapest. The delegation went, and was received by the minister of agriculture. He told the Makovians that he was fully aware for the onion crisis, but instead of promising them "his serious consideration," he told them frankly: "Generation," he told them frankly: "Generatemen, you'll have long whisters before the government will help you in this matter!" VITAMIN A FOR TONSILS AND ADENOIDS. In surveying the several schools of thought in regard to the best treat-ment of tonsils and adenoids (pre-sumably tonsils and adenoids that are either enlarged or infected) in our last quarrel about this, I find I omitted to mention one worthy group, namely, doctors who believe in and in suitable cases give topical treatment in preference to the other methods. to provide an endowment of $100,- Topical treatment means something or ther, medicinal as a rule, applied ocally to the tonsils or adenoids. I know of no good doctors who employ I know of many fine physicians who or infected tonsils as is surgical in

Now let us just briefly call the roll

1. Born specialists and little tip doctors who accept the cheap jobs offered by local health boards, school boards and the like, and corral prin-cipally school children for wholesale tonsil and adenoid operations whether the victims have any tonsils and adenoids to speak of or not. This

If You Invite an Extra Guest, You Must Cut Thinner Slices for Everybody -By Robert Quillen-

At least forty leaves are required to feed an apple. If a tree holds more than one apple to each forty leaves, the fruit an't develop normal size and flavor.

The grower must decide whether to produce many apples of inferior rade or a smaller number of better quality. To produce fine apples he must remove the surplus, leaving on the tree only the few that can be fed abundantly.

When a litter of pups or of pigs contains a greater number than the mother can supply, the breeder kills the surplus.

If he doesn't, the weaker ones starve to death or survive as useless runts to handicap their more fortunate nates. When the food supply is limited, t' se to be fed must be given short rations or reduced in number.

That is the only solution, whether the hungry are apples, pigs, pups or people. Members of the laboring class endure occasional periods of want because their number is greater than the number of jobs.

When jobs are few and labores, many, men bid against one another for the chance to work and wages fall. The surplus workers go hungry, and their presence handicaps those who have jobs. The poor, in short, are hopelessly poor because they are so many. Only by reducing their number to match the number of jobs can they induce employers to bid for their services and thus provide abundant food for all Restricted immigration could solve part of the problem, but restricted birth must solve the remainder and that is a problem for each individual household.

a sweet savor to my last days in life are identified with Atlanta—her fine men, her glorious women and her peatedly in the last few years. This present government action is healthy, and should help clear the whole atmosphere. Unless perhaps by opening it up, it brings in its wake a series of basic patent suits which will put the industry in an unsettled position for years.

With Watson Washburn, assistant United States attorney-general, ant United States attorney-general, delving into the spectacular decline in two New York stocks last week, comes the report that the individual, who asked for a receivership against the Celotex Company, was not a stock holder of record and only had the stock two days before filing the suit. The stock exchange, too, has started its own investigation. It expects to have a report shortly on all recent operations in this stock—on both the have a report shortly on all recent operations in this stock—on both the "bear" and the "bull" sides.

How can such a problem be met? The Celotex stock sold at $43 5-8 a share on May 7. Suit for receivership was filed May 8, at Wilmington, Del., and the stock dropped from $42 7-8 to $20 in two hours, recovering 8 points later, closing at $28.

B. D. Dahlberg, the president of Celotex, when asked about the situation, said to this writer:

"The game played on us was a sharp game and should be made as unlawful as the beer racket or any of the other Chicago rackets. If people are allowed to conduct business ple are allowed to conduct business on or through the exchange in this on or through the exchange in this manner, no company and no securities will be safe from attack."

Why not have federal incorporation of all corporations doing an interstate business, with a provision that no one who has not been a stockholder of record for at least 60 days can file a suit for receivership? This, at least, would minimize the danger.

If federal incorporation is not probable, why can't such a provision be incorporated into the laws of New York and other states?

The large pile of gold which has come into the United States since the first of the year—$183,000,000—exceeds the amount which came in for the corresponding period of last year when money rates were high and the

So the gold export and import vement is not exactly clear. When stock market dropped last fall, and rates went down, most economsts believed that gold would flow out of the United States in large amounts. It did—for 30 days. But it soon stopped, and since January it's been coming in in greater and greater volume. At the moment, gold import from Europe is expected, British ster-ling being very weak and almost at

HERE'S THE PLAN

Have your present furnace converted this summer to burn gas. We will do this merely by removing intact your present grate and ash pit door. The self con-tained conversion unit slips into place and makes an efficient gas heating plant of your present furnace or coiler.

If you do not use a furnace we will install our Puritan heater, an efficient air circulation type. Make a small down payment when ordering the in-stallation, to be followed by monthly payments of ten dollars each, beginning October 1st.

Then test natural gas thoroughly, in your own way, nder your own rules and conditions, until Decem-her lst.

If by that time you are not completely satisfied in every respect we will remove the natural gas equipment, replacing your present grates, and refund to you every penny that you have paid for it. You need has only for the gas that you have actually used.

We mean just this

You may try gas heat in your own home at our risk.

We will convert your present furnace to burn gas efficiently.

If you like it, and wish to keep the equipment, small payments make it easy to do so.

If you do not, for any reason, we will take it back, replace your present grates, and refund every penny you have paid for it.

undreds of inquirers have asked if we "actually mean" the unusual offer we have made, that is, to allow you to test gas heat in your own way before deciding whether you want to keep it or not.

We do. Naturally we know the satisfaction natural gas heating will give.

Millions of dollars have been spent in preparation to offer it to you. It is practical, economical, clean, dependable and desirable in every way. Its comfort and convenience will be a revelation to you. Then why should we hesitate to let you find out for yourself?

Associated Press Market Editor. Chicago, May 14 .- (A)-Notwith-

standing announcement that world's available supplies of wheat have decreased 13,397,000 bushels in the last week, wheat values today showed a downward trend. Low-priced offer-week, wheat values today showed a downward trend. Low-priced offerings of Canadian wheat abroad, together with considerable selling here on the part of eastern holders of future delivery contracts were largely responsible. Another notable bearish influence was uncertainty prevalent as to what extent government sponsored agencies would support prices for new crop deliveries.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled 3-8 to 11-8c a bushel below yesterday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to 3-4 to 7-8c down, oats 1-8 to 3-8c off and provisions unchanged to a setback of 5c.

Throughout the day, wheat traders here kept an uneasy eye on Winnipeg dispatches, assertions being current that the Canadian growers' pool was selling wheat for export at flat prices which competitors were unable to meet. New York messages also were circulated saying that export business appeared to be almost nil, and it was not until dealings for the day here were about over that any special improvement was generally known. Late estimates, however, put the total purchases from Canada and the United States today for overseas at 700,000 to S00,000 bushels. Meanwhile, Oklahoma reports indicated better crop prospects for that state, with a promise now of an Oklahoma yield of 40,000.000 bushels. low of an Oklahoma yield of 40,- 000,000 bushels.

On the other hand, about the only stimulus today for friends of higher stimulus today for friends of higher prices on wheat came from reports by a leading crop expert that there is immedate need of rain in some parts of Kansas, especially Morton and Stevens counties, where the outlook at present was given as less than five bushels an acre. The same authority also asserted that more rain is generally required in ten days or two weeks, and a great deal during the next three or four weeks. From other sources, too, reports were at hand that in at least some parts of Kansas, cool in at least some parts of Kansas, cool favorable weather has not brought about the crop improvement which could ordinarily be expected, and that could ordinarily be expected, and that many growers are now looking for much below normal yields, a majority of samples showing an average of two-inch heads that will not lengthen. Corn and oats went lower with wheat. Canadian points advised that Argentine corn is being offered at much below a parity with corn from the United States.

Provisions held relatively steady owing to an upward trend of hog values.

PRIVILEGE ISSUES STEAL SPOTLIGHT FROM INVESTMENTS IN BOND MART Canadian Newsprint American Telephone Gains 21-2 Points in Heavy Trading money market and the trend was un-changed. The large turnover in con-vertible issues helped expand the vol-ume to the highest point of the week although the day's sales were still be-low normal. DAILY BOND AVERAGES.

NEW YORK. May 14.—(P)—
Stock privilege issues felt the buoyant effects of a rising stock market today and stole the spotlight from investment issues.

The demand for convertibles was the heaviest in some time. American Telephone 41-2's led the movement, both in volume and advance, finishing 21-2 points higher. Share feature rails participated in the rise. In contrast to the accelerated movement of convertibles was the rather quiet trading in investment issues which moved with some uncertainty in the absence of extensive support. Buying was on a broadened scale, however, with continued favorable conditions in the

The turnover in American Telephone 41-2s was extensive in view of the rapidity with which the bonds have been surrendered for conversion. The corporation announced today that only one-third of the total issue of $219,000,000 remained outstanding. Philadelphia Coal & Iron 6s equalled the year's high but sagged slightly to gain 1 point net.

Cotton Letters.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Wednesday's cotton market was an extremely dull affair with the tone casy in response to light to heavy rains in the dry section of the eastern helt and falling off in precipitation in the western belt, where the rainfall had recently been excessive and unfavorable for planting and cultivation. Old crop months cased off in sympathy. The domestic consumption figures for April were rather hearish, being somewhat less than the cotton exchange service figure of 538,000. Largely a weather market for the present and spit to sag lower with favorable climatic conditions.

JACKSON BROS. BOSEL & CO.

NEW YORK. May 14.—The stability of the stock market at the present time is the stock market at the present time is the stock market at the present time is the stock market at the present in the 30 industrials and the 20 rails used in the compilation of the Dow-Jones averages. In Thresday's market we note that 14 out of 30 industrials showed advances on the day while 13 showed fractional declines, two showed no chance, and one did not appear on the tape. In the list of 20 rails, 16 showed advances, two showed declines, one was unchanged, and one did not appear on the tape. This gives a composite picture of the attitude of investor. Some of the advances were rather sharp, particularly in the rail group, whereas not a single radical decline was suffered by any of these standard stocks.

The fact that unfavorable news in the railroad and steel groups failed even to shake confidence in Issues representing these groups leads us to the conclusion that the technical position in the general market is stronger at the present time than generally supposed. This implies higher prices in selected issues for the near future.

situation that might have had disastrous consequences was kept measurably in hand. The industry has not made progress to the extent of bringing about an actual reduction of stocks but in its spasmodic attempts to attain that goal, it has at least prevented more excessive overproduction than actually occurred.

"An event of this year which "An event of this year which marked a new phase and which afforded a basis for optimism was the report of the committee on petroleum economics, issued under the authority of the federal oil conservation board. For the first time a program that may lead to a solution of the overproduction problem has been crystallized in definite form by a government appointed body. On account of its painstaking care, evidenced in its preparation, and the logic of its deductions, the report deserves the serious consideration of the entire industry. Whether or not the program suggested becomes effective, the fact remains that the industry has now before it a workable schedule, under which production may be brought in balance with the market demand."

pool whereby the radio industry is controlled and competition has ceased. On the face of this petition it appears that the government has a clear case in its charge of monopoly. However, from the statement made by Owen D. Young, chairman of the executive committee of the Radio Corporation and also executive head of General Electric, it appears from the viewpoint of the public there is another side to be considered.

803.700-Share Turnover; Stocks.

NEW YORK. May 14.—(P)—The curb market again worked moderately higher in quiet trading today as speculation for the rise was concentrated in the electric power and natural gas issues, and some of the specialties. Total sales, at 803,700 shares, were substantially larger than yesterday's turnover of 675,200, but still considerably below negural.

stantially larger than yesterday's turnover of 675,200, but still considerably below normal.

Wall Street has been buzzing with rumors of natural gas developments and power mergers of late, and the utility shares have rebounded rapidly from the low levels of 10 days ago.
There is a feeling in some quarters that several utility mergers will be rushed to completion before the next session of congress, when serious attempts to bring utility companies under more rigid control are expected.

Electric Bond and Share rose 3 points to 106, a new high for the movement, and such issues as American Gas & Electric, American Light & Traction, North American. Power & Light, United Light A and American Superpower, rose 1 to 3 points.

DECEIVER"

VALLEY STREAM, N. Y., May 14 (P)—The transcontinental speed record set by Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh still stood today despite the effort of Roscoe Turner and a lion cub to lower it.

After contending with strong head winds and bad flying weather over much of his route from Los Angeles, Turner was forced down at Curtiss Field here at 7:40 P. M. (E. S. T.) yesterday, out of fuel and one hour, 13 minutes and 33 seconds behind the record time of the Lindberghs who crossed the continent Easter Sunday in 14 hours, 23 minutes and 27 seconds.

Although Turner was believed when

AND RIGHT THEN AND THERE I MADE UP MY MIND THAT I'D NEVER STAY AWAY AGAIN AS LONG AS WE HAD STAYED IN CUBA THIS TIME. NO, SIR! AND WASN'T I GLAD TO KNOW THAT THE TRAIN WAS RIGHT THERE WAITING FOR US, AND WOULD START TAKING US BACK HOME AS SOON AS WE GOT ON!

Although Turner was believed when he landed to have made the flight with a single stop, at Wichita, he had come down once between los Angeles and Wichita and that he was compelled to land for a moment at Middletown, Pa., because of an oil leak.

Walter Ward, official timer for the National-Aeronautic Association, said the ven if Turner had bettered the landed at Wichita, Kas., at the landed at Wichita, Kas., at more defined at Wichita, Kas., at landed time of Colonel Lindbergh, his landing landed to have made the flight with a single stop, at Wichita, he landed that he was designed to eat took off again.

He said he had encountered "miser-able" flying weather over the first part of his trip and at one time over look with a specially constructed parachute strapped to its back.

New Mexico thought he would have barred as the official landing place.

Long Terms Given Confessed Robbers

Pleas of guilty to robbery charges Wednesday resulted in 10 to 20-year sentences for John J. O'Malley, alias James A. Burke, and Frank Ballew, alias Leo Stringer, in Judge G. H. Howard's division of Fulton superior court. Alford Odum was given two years when convicted of attempting to rob the safe of the J. A. La-Fitte Transfer and Storage Company. O'Malley and Ballew were charged jointly with robbing E. L. China, 496 Sydney, S. E., of $5 on April 3, and M. T. Wells, 460 Cherokee, S. E., of $35 on April 3. Odum was charged with attempting to force Louis Hood to open the safe in the transfer company's office on March 3.

Robert Magby, negro, was given six to eight years on a plea of guilty to a charge of robbing Mrs. A. A. Burgess of a handbag and $40 in cash on April 10. Magby snatched the purse from Mrs. Burgess, it was said.

Improvement Noted In Hinman's Condition

slight change for the better was noted Wednesday in the condition of Dr. Thomas P. Hinman, prominent dentist, who has been critically ill at his home, 151 Fifteenth street, N. E., for the last week following an attack of acute pleurisy. Members of the family reported that Dr. Hinman rest-ed fairly well Wednesday.

Business Structure Is Declared Sound

Expressions of confidence as to the underlying soundness of the business underlying soundness of the business structure were voiced on all sides at the 35th convention of the National Association of Credit Men, in Dallas, Texas, this week, according to a telegram received Wednesday from Fred H. Sned, secretary of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men. Mr. Sned said that it was the sense of the convention that "the continued improvement and ultimate recovery of business conditions will depend largely upon organized effort based on sound judgment and sane applications of credit principles."

AMERICA IS CHOOSING

TRUE SATISFACTION DEPENDS ON WISE SELECTION . . . MOTORISTS GIVE BUICK

OVER ANY OTHER CAR PRICED ABOVE $1200 - SUCH PREFER-ENCE PROVES BUICK VALUE

Seasoned motorists know and demand value. They have so profited by their knowledge of car quality that they are purchasing more than twice as many Buicks as any other car priced above $1200.

Once you've driven Buick-once you've thoroughly tested and compared it—you'll know the reasons for its sales leadership.

For here are elements of Fisher style leadership - of Buick performance leadership—of twenty-seven year reliability leadership—not combined in any other car of Buick's price.

The final proof of Buick's greater value is the fact that Buick wins from 30 to 50 buyers out of every 100 in Buick's price class—and 15 other cars share the balance. Buy a Buick and buy known value.

American Debutantes Achieve Distinction at British Court

BY MARTHA DALRYMPLE, Associated Press Staff Writer.
LONDON, May 14.—(P)—In a negrafificent setting of gold and scarlet, King George and Queen Mary tonight sped hundreds of palpitating debuntates—including eight Americans Americans. All of the girls from the United States obligingly poked their heads out of the windows to pose for photographers, and smiled graciously to acknowledge the acclaim of the spectators.

The regal splendor of the Buckingham Palace throne-room made an admirable background for the girls in frothy white and pastel hued gowns.

The queen, who smiled encouragingly at each nervous presentee, wore an imposing gown of blue-silver brocade, the famous Kobinoor diamond gleaming from her breast.

King George wore the scarlet full dress uniform of colonel-in-chief of the grenadier guards, and presented an impressive picture as he stood by one the grenadier guards, and presented an impressive picture as he stood by one of the twin gold thrones, mounted on a gold and scarlet dais, under the golden canopy in the state ballroom.

With the Prince of Wales, who wore the uniform of the Welsh Guards, was Princess Mary, wearing a gown of pale blue trimmed in diamante. A silver tissue train and a diamond sapphire tiara completed the ensemble. ne ensemble.

Most of the 800 guests, who were beautiful shoes principally from the diplomatic corps, were respleadent in their uniforms but the American and Russian ambassa-dors were conspicuous for their sombre garb. Ambassador Charles G. Dawes re-er energetically in an effort to get close enough to view the powdered and befeathered debutantes who waited in parked motor cars along the Mall for ence and in none of the cars were the shades drawn. The crowd was particularly interested in the limousines which contained the eight Americans. All of the girls from the royal summons.

Ambassador Charles G. Dawes remained faithful to the usual American evening dress, while M. Sokolnikov, the Russian, wore an evening coat with black knee breeches.

The gowns of the American debutantes played a brilliant part in the evening's fashion significance.

At the second court tomorrow evening two girls and six matrons will be presented including Mrs. Clark Howell and Mrs. Hoke Smith, of Atlanta.

Mrs. Tritchler Honors Miss Law.

Mrs. Theodore Tritchler was hostess at a bridge-tea yesterday at the East Lake Country Club, complimenting Miss Frances Law, bride-elect. The guests included Misses Law, Elizabeth Little, Jane Small, Hilda Adams, Leila Mason, Verdery Rosenbusch. Ruth Hendrix, Annie Bratton. Phoebe Ellis, Jane Gilbreath, Mesdames Foster Law, George Saunders, T. J. Cheshire, J. B. De-Saussaure, Julian Jones and the hostess.

Window Compositions. Designs of stained glass windows, ade from original color composimade from original color compositions, have been recently done by students at the High Museum of Art. These compositions are remarkable for originality and workmanship and would do credit to any building in which they should be placed. These interesting studies were made by the first year design department after visiting a local stained glass factory where the difficult processes of making the glass were carefully explained. The information gained in this way proved of inestimable value in making the parchment designs. Equally as interesting subjects are being handled by students in the various branches of art at the museum.

MISS NELL CLAYTON IS BRIDE OF CARLYLE HOLLEMAN

Ceremony Is Performed Mrs. Chamberlain At St. Mark's M. E. Church

A wedding centering the interest of Atlanta's most fashionable society was that of Miss Nell Clayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McDowell Clayton, and Carlyle Holleman, son of Joseph Travis Holleman, whose marriage was beautifully and impressively solemnized last evening at the St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal church at Peachtree and Fifth streets.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. L. Duren, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

The church was artistically decorated with quantities of palms and Easter lilles, and down the aisles at each pew were placed tall cathedral candles, alternating with white shepherd staffs. At the base of each candle and each staff were clusters of white roses and white snapdragons tied with white tulle ribbon edged with silver. The altar was banked with palms, interspread with 14 candelabra. Each candelabrum was entwined with smilax and showered with white sweet peas. Behind the altar were five tall floor baskets filled with white gladiolus. In front of he altar the priedleu was covered with smilax and clusters of white weet peas, snapdragons and small white roses. Groups of palms were effectively used in decorating the corners of the church. The wall brackets throughout the church were covered with latris, and the lights were covered with white tulip shades.

Preceding the entrance of the wedding party and during the ceremony an exquisite program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Eda E. Bartholomew. The wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin" was E. Bartholomew. The wedding march from wagner's Lonengrin was played as the processional and the Mendelssohn wedding march from "Midsummer Night's Dream" was played as the recessional. Preceding the ceremony "Evening Star" from "Tannhauser," by Wagner, and "Liebesstraum" by Liszt was rendered. During the ceremony "Ave Maria" was softly played and was sung by Ed Armstrong.

The ushers entering first included

The ushers entering first included Wilmer Davis, Ben E. Ragsdale, Lawton Stevens, of New Orleans, formerly of Atlanta, and Epps Brown. The groomsmen were Arch Martin, Frank Armistead, John H. Barnett and Richard Hickey.

Miss Josephine Clayton, lovely young sister of the bride, was the maid-of-honor. She wore a beautiful gown of ecru lace over pink satin. The dress was made princess style, fitting very tight at the wasitline, and reaching to the floor with a long flowing skirt. The neck was round and the sleeves were tiny old-fashioned puffed sleeves. She carried a large arm bouquet of angel pink roses, pink snapdragons, blue delphinium, showered with lilies of the valley, and tied with pastel shades of Maline ribbon.

The bridemaids, Mrs. John Hardman Barnett, Mrs. Jack Parker, of Greenville, S. C.; Mrs. Henry Morgan and Mrs. Frank Boston, Jr., wore duplicate dresses as that of the maid-of-honor, over different colored satin. Mrs. Barnett wore yellow, Mrs. Morgan wore coral, Mrs. Parker wore blue and Mrs. Porker wore blue and Mrs. Boston wore green. They carried large arm bouquets of roses, sweet peas, blue delphinium, showered with valley lilies and tied with white gladiolus and two tall carbinates where with pastel Maline ribbon. Little Miss Mary Hurt Clayton, sister of the bride, was the flower girl, and she was daintily gowned in flesh tulle. She wore pink satin slippers and carried a pink basket filled with varicolored garden flowers.

Radiant Bride.

The beautiful young bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Dr. Benjamin Jones. The bride's wedding gown was of eggshell satin and lace. Around the neck was a bertha of lace and the waist was fitted tight, the style being princess. The lace

It gave her a tremendous sense of power not to be paying for these details.

Dan got home at half-past six. Cassy knew his step, flying up the bare, noisy stars, and would be out in the hall to meet him, her face flushed between the control of the window, and everyone looked so—so poor around here."

Talking half seriously, in a deliberate little affectation of self-pity, she was amazed to see his face whiten.
"That's just—it," he said desperately.

"Well, just what I was afraid of, Cass."
Courage, and a little shame, returned to her in a rush, and she said affectionately:

And she had asked her neighbor downstairs, laughing and shame-faced: "Is there anything mysterious about washing things, Mrs. Terry?"

"Except that the water in this house is as hard as rocks!" the other woman had answered, surprised.

She had washed the small articles, and they had actually come out clean! Laughing with sheer exhilaration, she had again descended to Mrs. Terry's apartment to borrow her electric iron. "But how'll I know about paying you for the electric light?" she had at last remembered to ask. ours together. While he sat in the big chair with the propped foot, waiting and resting, she went gaily to and fro, a slender figure in a dark blue apron, absorbed in the business in hand.

"What ship are you on now, Dan?"
"Big freighter called the Catalonia."

Courage, and a little shame, returned to her in a rush, and she said affectionately:

"Why, you're yellow, aren't you, Dan? I always suspected it—"

"No, no, no, darling." he murmured, his lips against her hair, his arms tight about her. "But you're so sweet, and you're so brave! And I want so to have it all go right—I want it to work out—"

"And isn't it, you sap?" Cassy said, rubbing her head up and down against his cheek. "Why, I've had burns, and I've cried in my life before," she reminded him between little carefully placed kisses, "and the fore," she reminded him between little carefully placed kisses, "and the mory Danny to comfort me."

"Her depression of the morning had vanished. She was in her happiest mood: older and wiser than she had been before that unexplained burst of tears this morning, yet she saw no change in herself, and Dan only thought her a little more loving, more engaging, more infinitely dear than before.

"Within a week they were living by settled routine. Dan had to be down on the dock at S e'clock, and Cassy got up at 6:30 and gave him his breakfast at 7. She put her apron on over her paismas, and thrust her bare feet into felt slippers, pattering contentedly to and fro, putting toast, coffee and eggs before him.

At 7:30 he left, and Cassy had a long day in which to do her house.

At 7:30 he left, and Cassy had a long day in which to do her house-keeping. She had no system about it; she did it spasmodically and lazily, enjoying the novelty and independence of it all.

Mrs. Terry, with the two bad habies in the rooms just below, had assured her that coffee grounds could be boiled two or three times, so the fin coffee pot sometimes was not a long to the kitchen, not to return to his arms until he

Every spare scrap of butter went into a thick little jelly glass, to bused for cooking.

On the windowsill would be the opened can of cream, crusted yellow where the little stream trickled out, two frankfurters, a bowl of cold rice, and one jelly doughnut. And in the box under the sink were potators, four onions, three hard yellow applies, and four turnips. Cassy would sigh, regarding the turnips. Dan didn's seem to care much for mashed turnips.

On her shelf, neatly ranged, were corn starch and a bag with some macaroni in it, and one can of person, and the mustard, of course, and a little five-cent box of seedless rais ins that Dan had abought her onnight for desert, but that she had secretly and thriftily saved for a pudding.

She looked at these things every day, and meditated their possibilities. Then she made a list for market. But before going out, there often were other things to do. In the first place, there might be washing. Laundry work to Cassy hitherto had always seemed as remote from her own sphere of activities as coining the money she had once spent so easily but it had assumed different proportions now.

And she would leap to the kitchen, not to return to his arms until he was high things and shame faced. The first pulls of the pour fails of the business of finding and shame faced. The first pulls of the pull of the pour fails and the heart engaged the second day of teasings, desperately and thriftily saved for a pudding.

SANDWICH, England, May 14.—
Everything is now ready for the Walker cup match which begins here Thursday. I have seen several of these matches. I even played in one of them, but I never have experienced such a feeling of controlled excitement—of the lull before the storm—as there is at this moment in this sleepy old corner of Kent.

Part of the reason, of course, is Bobby Jones who has never in his life been more of a magnet than at present. But there is also the fact that Great Britain thinks it has a very distinct chance of winning at last.

FAVORS AMERICA.

Whether that feeling is justified. I cannot decide, but on the whole I think it is. If I had to bet I would bet on America, but we have a real chance. The first round may be said to have gone to Britain. The St. George's cup, our most important amateur score competition, was played at Sandwich last Saturday. Bobby did not play, to the said disappointment of the crowd, but several Americans did and we managed to prevent their winning. Only, however, by the nardid and we managed to prevent their winning. Only, however, by the nar-

The British team has been troubled

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 14.-

LOUISVILLE, May 14.—Along in the shank of a damp, chilly, overcast morning your correspondent reached Churchill Downs just in time to see a big blood bay colt with a white stripe on his face and four white tips splatter his way along for a mile and a quarter in 2:19.

There was no mistaking the animal. It was Gallant Fox, the matinee idol of the east, who has come down to Kentucky to show the hard-boots how to run a

The track was a loblolly of brown mud, a pan of chocolate icing fetlock deep, but the Fox went right along as indifferent to the slippery footing as the blind mule of the old narrative.

Gallant Fox fairly takes the breath of any visitor from the sticks who is easily impressed by heft and regal bearing in a race horse. So I looked around to get expert opinion if any could be found—and sure enough as permanent as the three-quarter pole itself there was old Wayman Hill, the colored clocker, who has been snapping the watch on horses for 30 years for the racing papers.

Wayman carries his head to one side and his left eye half closed, as if perpetually squinting at a stopwatch. Aside from wearing a new blue overcoat that turned its back, so to speak, on Wayman's perennial brown cap and suitcase shoes, Wayman was the personification of stability.

"Dat was Gallant Fox jes worked, Mr. Danforth," Wayman began, as if picking up the conversation that was interrupted last year. "He was jes breezin' and the boy pulled his ahms off to hold him down. Dey say the Fox sulks but he sho went pleasant as a possum just den.

"What about this Tannery?" I asked.

"He's a big chestnut—a blond chestnut—looks as big as a obacco hogshaid a-rollin' downhill-and he works like breaking sticks. It was last Monday when dey had him out and he went the route in 2:09 4-5. If Mistah Gallant Fox don't watch out, the blond gonna beat him. Mr. Jack Baker is trainin' him an' the blond is gittin' jes what a hoss ought to git."

"What's all this excitement about Uncle Luther since he won that race from Ned O. and some other Derby things Tuesday?" I asked.

"Naw suh, none of him fuh me. He walked away from the post thre etime last yeah and got left a mile behind. He winning. Only, however, by the narrowest margin.

Dr. Willing finished with a fine score of 148 and the question was whether anyone would catch him. Harley, one of our Walker cup team, had to do the last three holes in 3, 4, 4, perfect golf on difficult holes, in order to tie him. He did it, although he had to play a pitch shot out of heavy grass and then hole an eight-foot putt to do it.

On the next day they played off the tie and Hartley fairly and squarely beat his man in a high wind and won by six strokes. It was hard on Dr. Willing, who tied for this prize on his last visit here only to be beaten in the play-off by Francis Ouimet. Still we are naturally pleased at an Englishman winning. It has given us more courage for the fight to come.

Here is tomorrow's lineup: "And a hoss is the hardest animal to unlearn any thing. Once he gets used to doin' somethin' he just cain't quit. I remember when Jim Jenkins was bringin' along a hoss called Tyler and dey was gettin' ready to make a killin' at Lexington. Dey put old Tyler in three races and he wanted to run but every time dey got to de three-quarter pole, de boy jerked him down so's he wouldn't win.

> "Den finally one day dey decided to shoot with Tyler and dey put all the money dey had on him. Old Tyler was leadin' by two lengths, but when he got to de three-quarter he just naturally pulled hissef and got beat. Dey, the stable folks, was cussin' a blue streak and started to sell Tyler to a dairy to pull milk wagons.

"But anyhow dey shipped him oveh heah to Looeyville and dropped him in a race for exercise. Tyler didn't know de track and got all mixed up with the three-quarter pole in a queer position and he ran away from the others like dey was standin' still."

'He paid $202 to two to win and the stable folks had somethin' else to cuss about because dey nevah bet a dime. Naw suh, hosses is hard to unlearn anything. I'd be scared Uncle Luther would forget to start when the barrier went up. He's done got used to takin' his time."

FORGOT SOMETHING.

Wayman ignored the fact, however, that Uncle Luther, with a new boy, Bobby Crees, in the saddle, actually got off quickly and won with all ease. They say the boy, who has never ridden in a stake race in his life, will get the mount for

MISS MADDOX HAS CLOSE CALL AT SEDGEFIELD

Atlantan Wins on 20th Hole in Battle To Retain Golf Title.

By Eddie Brietz.

Associated Press Staff Writer. SEDGEFIELD COUNTRY CLUB. GREENSBORO, N. C., May 14.—(P) For a time today youth threatened to steal the show in the women's southern golf tournament here. Helen Waring, the Pinchurst star, furnished the high explosives in the second round of match play when she carried Miss Margaret Maddox, of Atlanta, the defending champion, to the 20th green before yielding a gruelling 1-up decision to the more experienced titleholder.

YOUTHS DROP OUT.

None of the small crop of promising youngsters remained in the running tonight as the eight survivors of the championship division polished up their clubs for the quarter-finals to the champions.

The list of title eligibles is now composed exclusively of such old familiar names as Mrs. Dave Gaut, of Memphis, three times a champion in the past; Mrs. W. L. Pierce, of Charlotte, last of the Carolinians, and Mrs. Marion Turpie Lake, of New Orleans, who, althought still young in years, is a seasoned veteran of the Dixie golfing wars.

While the Atlanta champion was waging the hardest battle of her links career to remain in the picture, the other members of the south's "Big four" breezed through their second-rounders with a minimum of difficulty.

"BIG FOUR" VICTORIES.

Mrs. W. D. Irwin, of Greensboro, N. C., made it interesting for Mrs. Leon Solomon, of Memphis, for a time, but finally succumbed, 3 and 2. Mrs. Lake won easily from Mrs. W. H. Willard, of Charlotte, N. C., 4 and 3, and Mrs. Gaut took the measure of Miss Clara Woolridge, of Little Rock, 3 and 1.

In defeating the Arkansas state champion, Mrs. Gaut shot the best medal round of the tournament. Her 39 for the first nine holes was several notches better than anybody else has done.

In the other championship matches Miss Anne Kennedy, of Tulsa, Okla., kept the southwest in the thick of things by defeating Mrs. E. C. Hollins, of New Orleans, 6 and 5. Mrs. Kennon Rodwell, of Savannah, conquered Miss Deane Van Landingham, of Charlotte, N. C., 3 and 2; Mrs. Harry Dodge, of Jacksonville, former Florida champion. won from Mrs. Carl Leibold, of Birmingham, 3 and 2, and Mrs. Pierce was victorious over Mrs. A. Taylor, of Atlanta, 7 and 5.

Noisy Chorus in Louisville Reveals Stubborn Resistance of Westerners.

By Ed Danforth.

Constitution Sports Editor.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 14.—Instead of being just a parade of beautiful but dumb animals led around Churchill Downs by Gallant Fox, the Rudy Vallee of eastern race tracks, for the edification of Lord Derby, the Kentucky Derby is beginning to look like a real wide-open race.

some of the intellectuals of this neck of the woods, having gazed upon the big red bay colt that won the Preakness, see no super-horse in him. Instead he looks like just another big strong colt, who can run when he wants to and occasionally is not inclined to put out much more than a gallop. Gallant Fox is no Reigh Count, no Black Gold, no-Zev, no Clyde Van Duseu. Briefly Gallant Fox at his best has no great amount of speed.

Or so they say in the hoarse cau or so they say in the hoarse caucuses in the hotel lobbies around Fourth and Broadway. Wherefore against the noisy chorus from the east that has been hailing Gallant Fox as the colt that would have the Kentucky Derby at his mercy, there is rising a stern undertone from the westerners protesting against awarding the $50,000 to the owner of Gallant Fox until the numbers are hung up on the board.

THERE'S TANNERY.

THERE'S TANNERY.

There is Tannery, owned by Big Boy Pritchard, of Lexington, a big yellow chestnut that everyone knows is trained as keenly as a boxer and can run fast and far. From Lexington also comes the two-horse team of E. R. Bradley, the old kunnel himself. These are Buckeye Poet and Breezing Through. The latter can run any of them to death for three-quarters of a mile and the former can stay until the cows come home. Tannery, however, beat these two at Lexington in a three-horse race the other day which placed them second in the western rating.

High Foot and Gallant Knight

High Foot and Gallant Knight are two western colts capable of great speed for a mile, and it is not impossible that one of these hustling, willing things will get away from the barrier and wear them all out. And yesterday one heard a great deal of Uncle Luther, another stout candidate from Lexington who suddenly came to life and soundly whipped. Ned O., one of the eastern stars, Tuesday.

In other words, the west has snapped out of the hypnotic trance occasioned by the pneans of praise for Gallant Fox and suggested right out loud that the east is due for an awful headache. They say that Gallant Fox had nobody to beat in the Preakness but Crack Brigade and who, pray, is Crack Brigade?

Birmingham Ready for Preakness but Crack Brigade and who, pray, is Crack Brigade?

JUST A HOSS.

Gallant Fox with any boy but Earl Sande in the saddle would be just a number on the program they say.

So goes the Derby overture. It sets the tempo for the big race and gives a hint of what may be expected in the big show. It is the emotional build-up for that pregnant two minutes when all the excitement and the suspense of a year of waiting and speculating by a race-loving people is touched off.

The race this year will be one of the most brilliant of years. Gallant Fox, the idol of the east, with Earl Sande, the king of the pigskin, aboard, will match heels with a western phalanx that carries the devotion of a sporting breed of men and women. Tannery may be the best of the home breds, the Bradley pair may be the best, High Foot, the Chicago-owned speed marvel may be the best but the west has lifted its chin, opened its mouth and begun to growl deflance.

The track at Churchill Downs is the despair of all handicappers. In the morning it may be fast. A hard shower will make it muddy at noon and the last race will be run over a fast drying track that is only a second or so slow.

Rain, Cold Halt Six Major Games

NEW YORK, May 14,—(P) Widespread rain and chilly weather today made baseball a rather unprofitable business. Out of eight games scheduled in the two major leagues, only two were played and those before meager crowds. All four of the American league games were postponed.

At Cincinnati some 2,000 fans turned out to see the Reds play the Brooklyn Robins in a struggle for second place. Only half that number was present at St. Louis at the start of the game between the Cardinals and the league-leading New York Glants.

The weather was cloudy and chilly in both places.
In the International league only the Newark-Montreal contest was played, while all the American Association games were post-

After Sir Barton's Mark.

Back in 1919 Commander J. K. L. Ross came down from Canada with race horse. His name was Sir Barton. That year with Loftus in the saddle Sir Barton won the Preakness, the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont in a clean sweep. He beat Eternal down the stretch in the Preakness, Billy Kelly in the Derby and Sweep On in the Belmont.

Sir Barton might have lived to much greater fame if a horse named Man O' War hadn't come along later to clean up all the racing fame there was.

Man O' War won the Preakness and the Belmont a year later but was started in the classic at Churchill Downs.

Eleven years later a horse by the name of Gallant Fox is out after Sir Barton's triple conquest. Ridden by the brilliant Earl Sande he has already packed away the prize of the Preakness. On Saturday in Louisville he will make his bid for the Derby and if he can run this gauntlet Gallant Fox will then make his bid for the Belmont, where he will bump into plenty of trouble with Whichone waiting to make his bid.

Gallant Fox is a first-class race horse. Just how good he is will not known until the Derby and the Belmont are run. He should be fast enough to win this year's Kentucky Derby, especially with Sande in the the present performance is about as good a thing to follow as one can think up when stake horses are at work. Gallant Fox at least has a great chance this week to come to the Belmont with the prospect of equalling Sir Barton's old mark—and the Derby just at present is the big thing.

The Long Wait.

In 1921, which is practically nine years ago, mathematics being what it is, the United States beat Great Britain rather badly in an unofficial Teddy Burwell, of Sewanee, No. 5 team match. This was at Hoylake. The British have made two desperate in the seeded list, and as a contender for the first time in the inter-colleging the first time in the inter-colleging program, so far as the Walker cup is concerned.

In 1921 Bobby Jones and Chick Evans were paired together foursome play, Bobby then being 19. Evans and Jones astonished the other side by going out in 33, playing alternate strokes. It is only natural that the British should be pretty well steamed up ver the result of the Walker cup matches now under way at Sandwich. They came so close at St. Andrews in 1923 and again in 1926 that they were entitled to look forward to an even chance at Sandwich on Thurs-

Something To Prove.

It is just as well to remember that in spite of any commission edict either Sharkey or Schmeling still has to prove that the winner has earned his place as heavyweight champion.

The mere fact of winning won't be sufficient. If both look bad, if the contest has a sour, moth-eaten aspect, it will be hard to make the public at large accept the winner as the logical successor to Dempsey and Tunney.

"Four distinct championships are to be played for in the 15 games between May 25 and June 8. The fourth to be played for in the 13 games between May 25 and June 8. The fourth corps area' regular army and national guard championships will be played for simultaneously during the first week. The winners of these two events will play for the fourth corps area championship on the second Sunday, June 1. During the last week play will be confined to teams that are eligible for the southern circuit elimination tournament. The championship game in this series is slated for Sunday, June 8. The winner in this event will represent the southeast in the United States Polo Association's inter-circuit tournament to be held later in the summer or fall. Fort Benning won this honor last year, but their team may well expect much stiffer opposition when they cross mallets with opponents at Fort Mc-Pherson this year.

Barry Predicts Return Of Dempsey or Tunney

CHICAGO, May 14 .- The spectacle of Max Schmeling or Primo Carnera in the heavyweight saddle might draw Gene Tunney from his social shell and back into the squared ring. It certainly would bring the old mauler, Jack Dempsey, out of retirement.

These opinions were aired today by Dave Barry, the now famous referee who officiated at the last fistic joust of Tunney and Dempsey in 1927, and who is still remembered today by fight crowds which chant one to fourteen whenever he acts as the third man in a ring.

state athletic commission; Walter Liginger, secretary of the Wisconsin state boxing commission, and Thomas Donohue, of Hartford, Conn., former president of the N. B. A. The committee forwarded its recommendation of indefinite suspension to Stanley M. Isaacs, of Cincinnati, Ohio, president of the National Boxing Association. General Clinnin, chairman of the committee, prepared the letter to Mr. Isaacs, which stated that the members of the committee believed a definite "build-up policy" to establish the huge Italian as one of the outstanding heavyweights of the world had been followed. He added, however, that there was no direct proof of "criminal conspiracy involving managers, seconds and principals, other than the record of the hearing at Oakland, Cal., after Carnera's bout with Leon Chevalier. General Clinnin pointed out that Carnera had engaged in 16 bouts, all of which failed to go the limit and that it was estimated that the con-tests in question drew $375,105 in

Brim-full of the goodness that sunshine gives

THERE ARE favored areas of the earth's surface where sun and soil combine to make tobaccos marvelously good. Delicate Turkish leaves that ripen in the golden sunshine of the Orient ... mellow leaves of Domestic from the sunwarmed slopes of our own Southland . . . the choicest of these great tobaccos mingle their mild, rich, natural goodness in the inimitable Camel blend.

The keen, sweet zest and sparkle of pure sunshine is stored for you in Camel Cigarettes-irradiated by the sun itself. And up-to-date, scientific methods of manufacture preserve this flavor and bring it to you, mild and fresh, with none of its goodness lost.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

There's no such thing as single bliss When constantly there's one you miss.

Nanny Meadow Mouse.

Nanny Meadow Mouse had made

Nanny Meadow Mouse had made herself a very comfortable bed of dry grass in an old tin can. It was an old gallon oil can. The entrance to it was just the right size. It was an ideal place for a home.

"It couldn't be better," Nanny kept saying over and over as she lay in her comfortable bed. "This is the place I'd like to have for my new home. If only Danny were here I would never want to move again. It is queer he doesn't come. I do hope nothing has happened to him. But I guess he'll come before long."

Danny didn't come. A day and anight passed. Another day and another night passed and there was no sign of Danny. With such little folk as Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse a day and a night is a very long time. Nanny grew very uneasy. She wanted to go out to look for Danny. However, this would be a foolish thing to do. It would be foolish because she hadn't the least idea where to look for him. The wise thing to do was what she was doing—remaining right at home. It was an better to let Danny find her, or try to find her, than for her to try to find him. So Nanny never wandered very far from the old can.

For several days Nanny saw no one. Then Peter Rabbit happened along. Yes, sir, Peter happened along. Nanny could almost have cried for joy. "Oh, Peter! Where is Danny?" she exclaimed just as soon as she saw him.

"How should I know?" demanded

"How should I know?" demanded Peter, looking very much surprised.

I don't know," whimpered Nanny. "I don't know," whimpered Nanny.
"A horrid dog chased me and I haven't seen Danny since. I'm afraid something has happened to him. Yes, sir, I am afraid something has happened to him. I'm lonesome, Peter. I'm lonesome and I get more lonesome every day. Please, Peter, if you see anything of Danny, or if you hear anything about him let me know. You don't suppose anything dreadful has happened to him, do you?"
"No," replied Peter, trying to com-

When Werper learned that the Abyssinians were enemies of Achmet Zek, he took heart. But lest he, himself, again fall into the hands of the raider. he discouraged Abdul Mourak from further pur-suit, telling him that Achmet Zek had a large and dangerous force and was marching rapidly toward the south. Convinced that it would take a long time to overhaul the raider, Mourak abandoned his p'an and prepared to return to Abyssinia.

a single word, repeated several times; "Lady! Lady Lady!" Several soldiers advanced stealthily through the jungle toward the author of the call. A half hour later they returned, dragging Mugambi among them. Now the big black's eyes fell upon the former guest of his master, the supposed M. Jules Fre coult. Between Frecoult and the disasters of his master, Mugambi saw a sinister relationship.

And so he did not recall his identity to Werper and the man failed to recognize him. Pleading that he was but a harmless hunter from a native tribe, Mugambi begged to be allowed to go upon his way; but Abdul Mourak, admiring the warrior's splendid physique, decided to take him back to Adis Abeba and present him to Emperor Menelek. Then Werper and Mugambi were marched away under guard, and the Belgian learned for the first time that he, too, was a prisoner rather than a guest.

In vain he protested against such treatment, until a strapping soldier struck him across the mouth and threatened to shoot him if he did not desist Mugambi, on the other hand, courted the good opinion of his captors, thinking that during the course of the journey he would find ample opportunity to clude the vigilance of his guards and make good his escape. He and Werper were kept together and there came a time when the powerfu black learned a very surprising thing, by accident.

Never before during my 14 years operating in Atlanta as an authorized Ford dealer have I had to offer to the public a finer assortment of reconditioned used cars of all types as I have at this time. The prices are ridiculously low and far below their market value. I also have an attractive proposition to used car dealers.

$2 License Fee Charged for Dogs

License fees for dogs will remain at $2 until June 6, under an ordinance passed by council reducing the fee to $1 provided the applicant is armed with a certificate showing the canine has been vaccinated with anti-rabies with anti-racies serum.

Walter C. Taylor, city clerk, declared Wednesday that under terms of the ordinance his office has no authority to reduce the fee until the city begins enforcement of the ordinance requiring that all dogs must be inoculated.

Dr. John P. Kennedy, city health officer, advised owners of dogs to get their pets inoculated now but to wait until June 6 before applying for the license and the $1 fee would not be placed into operation before that time.

Wider Scope Planned For Jewish Charities

Plans for broadened activities of the Federation of Jewish Charities were announced Wednesday night as the start of a new year of its work, including particularly attention to the boy problem, direction of youthful recreation and training, and reduction of juvenile delinquency.

These details of a constructive social service program were outlined by L. H. Moss, entering upon his fourth term as president of the federation, and Edward M. Kalin, executive director. Others of the new complement of officers announced as result of elections at the annual meeting Sunday were:

Should Bishop Canoon be called for trial he would be the first church official of his class to be tried on an irregularity charge. Bishop H. C. Morrison, now dead, was the last to face serious threat of trial. He finally was suffering a severe head-ache. An adjournment was taken until 9 o'clock this morning with Allen the only witness during the day, which was given over, in addition, to the opening outline of Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, speaking for the state, and Samuel D. Hewlett, speaking for the defense.

In his direct testimony Allen declared that he had taken money from Taylor on two occasions, $400 for withdrawing opposition to the petition of the power company and $100 in May of 1925 for voting in favor of least to the power company and $100 in May of 1925 for voting in favor of least to the provent of the power company and $100 in May of 1925 for voting in favor of least to the provent of the power company and $100 in May of 1925 for voting in favor of least to the provent of the power company and $100 in May of 1925 for voting in favor of least to the provent of the power company and $100 in May of 1925 for voting in favor of least to the provent of the power company and $100 in May of 1925 for voting in favor of least to the provent of the provent of the provent of the provent of the power company and $100 in May of 1925 for voting in favor of least to the provent of the provent of

POSTAL SITE TITLES

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, May 15.—Following announcement from Atlanta that owners of the property desired by the government for the new federal building have accepted the government's offer, with assurances that the sale will be completed, it was explained by officials here tonight that the next step in the $2,875,000 building project calls for an examination of Fulton county court records to clear up any question of title to the several holdings embraced in the site.

Officials estimated that it would require from 60 to 90 days to do this. In the meantime, the government will

In the meantime, the government will take an option to buy or enter into a definite agreement to acquire title subject to the examination that will be undertaken.

subject to the examination that will be undertaken.

Cannot Buy Yet.

Pending approval by congress of the new budget estimate recommendation sent to the speaker of the house Wednesday government officials of the various departments concerned are forbidden by regulations to purchase the property anyway. The budget report recommended an increase of $775,000 in funds for the Atlanta building. Regulations require that the full cost of any building project shall be designated and authorized before a site is actually acquired.

After title to the property, located in the northerly portion of the block bounded by Mitchell, Spring, Hunter and Forsyth streets, has been approved the next step of the government will be to tear down present buildings and take borings to determine the nature of foundation necessary.

Not until this test is completed will the actual drawing of blue prints of the blue funding be started. And not until the blue prints and executive times.

of the building be started. And not until the blue prints and specifications of the structure are completed will the treasury department advertise for bids from contractors to do the con-

Early Approval Seen.

Just how much time will be consumed in carrying out all of these necessary details is problematical. Ordinarily it may be expected that authorization for an increase in the Atlanta funds will be approved by congress within a short time, or before the title examinations are completed. As for the drawing of actual building plans, however, this is expected to take several months, since each department of the government having some agency located in the new building will be asked to go over the preliminary plans and approve the arrangements for all location of space.

the arrangements for all location of space.

Advertising for bids also will take some little time. The advertisement must be for a specified period, following which department engineers will want to look over the bids carefully before announcing an award. The lowest bidder does not necessarily receive the contract in public construction of the kind. All in all, indications are that the building will not start going up until late in the present year, while it may be delayed until the first of 1931, depending on the progress of the various steps.

Texas Republican Loses Libel Action

BROWNSVILLE, Texas. May 15.

(P)—R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman for Texas, lost his $500.000 libel suit against the Crowell Publishing Company and P. F. Collier and Sons Distributing Company here today when a jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendants.

The committeeman based his suit on an article in Collier's Weekly, "High-Handed and Hell-Bent," by Owen P. White, which dealt with the political situation in Hidalgo county on the Mexican border.

The case was given to the jury late yesterday. Testimony centered about Creager's asserted political alliance with Sheriff A. Y. Baker's democratic administration in Hidalgo county, accused by the magazine article with bossing some 60,000 people.

Witnesses testified for Collier's that it was "generally known" the state's republican leader and the Hidalgo county's democratic chieftain "had an understanding."

The committeeman himself denied the charges from the stand.

Further progress on the proposed widening of Whitehall street from Forsyth to Stewart avenue will depend on financial aid from Fulton county, it was decided Thursday afternoon at a special meeting of the streets committee of council.

The committee met to set up a taxing zone to prosecute the work, but opposition to the proposed assessment plan developed and the committee voted to defer action pending an effort to obtain additional financial aid from Fulton county.

Alderman G. Everitt Millican, of the tenth ward, declared that a group from the streets body would appear at the next meeting of the commission seeking more money.

Fulton county already has agreed to furnish about $80,000 for grading and paving.

Decision on quo warranto proceed-

The first clash in the campaign for nomination of 23 officers of the municipal government in the democratic primary, June 18, occurred Thursday in the Annie West school in the 11th ward, when mayoralty and recorder aspirants appeared.

Councilman Wiley L. Moore, of the seventh ward, and Alderman Ben T. Huiet, of the third, both of whom are seeking the mayor's chair, spoke in behalf of their candidates or citerating for the most part the pledges made in their respective platforms and soliciting the votes of all Atlanta rather than any special cliques or factions.

Former Mayor James L. Key and William H. Johnson, city warden, the other two candidates in the four-cornered battle for the chief executive's post, did not appear.

All three of the aspirants for the judgeship of the second division of the recorder's court—John L. Cone, Frank R. Fling and John Chambers—appeared.

James E. Bowden, opposing Mayor Pro Tem. J. Allen Couch for the alderman's post fron. the fifth ward, also appeared and solicited the support of those present.

Mexican Census Taken in One Day

MEXICO CITY, May 15.-(P) Mexico today declared a national holiday to take a census. By government order, all public offices, commercial order, all public offices, commercial houses and even restaurants were closed so that everyone not actively engaged in census taking could remain at home to be counted.

The census got under way yesterday with a parade in Mexico City and was completed tonight. This is the first national attempt to make a complete census since the days of Porfirio Diaz, about the beginning of the century, when Mexico's population was given as just under 15,000,000.

the minister may be found guilty of gross impropriety or highly unminis-terial conduct with the punishment a gross impropriety or lightly untilinisterial conduct with the punishment a reprimand, suspension or expulsion.

Before adoption of the memorial, the only charges upon which a minister could be tried were improper words and temper and immorality. In the latter case, unless the charges could be fully proved, the jury was perforce obliged to acquit him, even though his superiors were convinced of the truth of the immorality charges.

The memorial was offered by the Baltimore conference. The opposition principally was centered around a protest at trying a man on one charge and convicting him on another, but the logic of those who said this was in many cases permissible under civil law prevailed.

There was scant opposition to the proposal to strike the words "serve" and "obey" from the marriage ritual, its proponents advancing it as a change which would be approved universally as in keeping with the trend of the times.

A representative of a large hospital that has a "closed staff" objects to that term. He declares that it conthat term. He declares that it conveys a wrong impression, and he urges that the medical or surgical staff of such hospital should be called an "accredited staff." Then he goes on to say that "open staff" doesn't mean just what it implies, either, for very often the hospital so characterized in reality excludes some doctors from treating natients or operating. But reating patients or operating. But even though we admit there is someeven though we admit there is some-thing in that, we can't accept the term "accredited," because it implies that doctors not on the staff are of inferior class or ability, and everybody knows that is generally not so. Carrying his argument further, the representative of the hospital approved and controlled by the great medical oligarchy known as the American College of Surgeons declares that all doctors may bring patients for hospital service, and those patients for hospital service, and those qualified may even operate.

Governor Hardman has exhausted his constitutional power to borrow $3,500,000 "for the payment of the public school teachers only." Superinten-dent Duggan allows for the repayment that backwardness has been more due to the mean and moss back leaderships they have ignorantly and blindly followed than to a real lack of desire for better things. That desire is general among the people, but is unorganized, inarticulate, and sadly impotent, because men of courage and unselfish vision have not roused it and rallied it into aggressive action.

What Georgia Sadly Needs.

Much as I love him I do not agree

Much as I love him I do not agree with Justice Hines that our common school system should remain under the constitutional restriction of find instruction "in the elementary branches of an English education

I was in that convention of 1877. I was in that convention as its official re-porter and most cordially approved that restriction as necessary and eminently wise for the time. Sev-eral times in this column I have recited the circumstances which dictat nger exist and the restriction should no longer exist and the restriction should no longer exist. It ought to be strick-en from the constitution by the ear-liest amendment possible. It should have been stricken long ago, so that our school authorities would not have been tempted to violate the constitu-tion in building up the public school system as it is being operated to-

The Violations Caused Our Troubles. The present troubles of the school ystem are almost wholly due to those violations of the constitution. They led to unconstitutional expansions of the curriculum which should have been rigidly confined to "the elementary branches of an English education." That led to larger schools and more teachers and called for appropriations that the state school funds know that they use that money wholly in the treasury could not seem to the countries to know that they use that money wholly huge deficits and the teachers been compelled to go without their scant salaries for many, many sad and distressful months, from year to year.

Hailstorm Hits Lowndes County

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 15.—Hail damage estimated at many thousands of dollars was sustained Wednesday afternoon in a portion of Lowndes county, south of this city.

The damage covered an area which extends from the Twin Lake section southwest into the Clyattville district, and the pellets tore corn and tobaccoplants into shreds over a strip two miles wide and several miles in length.

The tobacco plants will hardly recover, according to reports reaching this city, although it is believed that the corn was small enough to grow out again.

The ground over the area was cov-

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN,

Associated Press Market Editor. CHICAGO, May 15.-(P)-Sugges-CHICAGO, May 15.—(P)—Suggestions of possibly the largest export husiness in breadstuffs this summer that has been witnessed for years had taken a stimulating effect on wheat prices today. Attention of traders focused on announcement that the amount of wheat on ocean passage to Europe is down to the smallest total in nearly a quarter century, with shipments a quarter century, with shipments from Argentina in particular reduced to an extent seldom equalsd. Export huying of North American wheat today was estimated at 1,000,000 bushels.

Under such circumstances, predictions were made here from influential sources that stocks of breadstuffs overseas will be practically exhausted by the time the 1930 whent crop in the United States is available. It was also shown that the world supply of wheat had been reduced 46,843. 1000 bushels in April compared with 32,991,000 bushels decrease during March, and that the reduction was chiefly in the United States and Candal. There were also continued reports that the Kansas crop outlook is poor in important areas, with stands thin and with heads and straw short. Persistent Canadian advices were also at hand, emphasizing lack of any appreciable reserve of moisture.

Corn and oats sympathized with wheat strength, and also reflected Newheat strength, and sho reflected Newheat strength were easier, influenced by downturns in hog values. Under such eircumstances, predic-

NEW YORK, May 15 .- (AP)-Trading in cotton was quiet today with 30 fluctuations narrow and irregular. An early advance on relatively steady cables was followed by the reactions on reports of beneficial rains in the 430 eastern belt, but the outlook for further showers in the western belt was considered unfavorable and prices rallied in the late trading. July, after selling off from 16.32 to 16.20 closed at 16.24, while the new October contract after selling off to 14.69 closed at 14.82. The market closed steady at a decline of 1 point on old crop months, but generally 8 to 16 higher on the new. Armour of III pfd

1 Omnibus such character is at hand. A few weeks of comparative quiet, with pro-fessional flurries up and down, it is pointed out, would serve to strengthen confidence and would lay the ground-work for a recovery coincident with an upturn in business. NEW YORK, May 15.—(P)—Speculative sentiment reversed itself in the stock market today and prices sold off during most of an extremely apathetic session. Total sales dropped to 2.675.470 shares, about 25.000 below Tuesday's volume, which had been the smallest since late February.

 CHICAGO, May 15 .- The Cudahy Packing Company sent the following letter to its stockholders: "In view of the unsatisfactory conditions which have hoticeably existed in many lines of industry during the past and been adversely affected. Throughout the entire period the volume of our production and sales has continued on to you of December 23, 1929, that activity, has been fully justified. We have now completed the first half of have now completed the first half of our fiscal year 1930, and our net carnings for that period exceed those earnings for that period exceed those of the corresponding period of last

"Our inventory prices are considerably lower than at the beginning of the year, the live stock situation more favorable, and with the increasing summer and fall demand for our products, which is characteristic of our business, the indications are that the company's earnings for 1930 will compare favorably with those of the pre-

Sentenced to Prison

J. L. Hurst, and G. M. Griffin, the expelled officers, were convicted of misconduct in office by a vote of 204 1-2 to 277 1-2, this action automatically removing them from their place in the state body. An unauthorized loan of $1,000 was said to have been one point involved in the proceedings.

Selma was selected as the convention city for 1931.

During yesterday's session the Mobile delegation was unseated following charges that the union had employed non-union men in the construction of their hall.

Opposition that had previously developed to the mine workers was withdrawn.

The convention went on record as condemning amusement houses using strictly mechanical shows to the exclusion of actors and musicians.

Mooney's Lake.

Sixty thousand actual readers will see and read about Mooney's again for the third year in the neighborhood theatres. These films made and presented by "Simpson Service" have borne results and increased attendance at Mooney's

Lake and consequently a renewal of moving picture advertising year after year is an adopted

policy at Mooney's.

Aviation Securities Gain 4 Points for Year's High

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER, Associated Press Financial Editor. NEW YORK, May 15.—(P)—Lead-

sold, dropping about 4 points, and American Superpower lost a point in active trading. American Gas & Electric. American Light & Traction and Insurance stocks were highly irre active trading. American Gas & Electric, American Light & Traction and North American Power & Light lost 2 or 3 points in small turnovers, and Nevada-California Electric had one of its wide moves, losing 13 points in a few sales. United Gas new stock was active and closed fractionally the few sales. United Gas new stock was active and closed fractionally the few sales. The fraction of the few sales are the few sales and the few sales are the few sales. The few sales are the few sales. The few sales are the few higher, and Missouri-Kansas-Texas Firemen's Fund lost 9 points.

THE JAS. P. SIMPSON CO., Inc., Presents in the Movies

"A WORLD OF FUN AT MOONEY'S"

During the next ten weeks on the screens of Atlanta Popular Community theatres will be "made in Atlanta" movies of Atlanta's most popular and recreational swimming pool. Thrilling water sports, trolleys, toboggans and many other water activities will be included in the scenes of this film, showing where to spend your leisure hours this summer. See this film in your neighborhood theatre, and then journey out to Mooney's Lake,

just off Piedmont Road between Atlanta and Buckhead, to enjoy these sports in the cool and refreshing artesian water of Pipe Line, also a natural gas issue, was again firm.

NEW YORK, May 15.—(P)—Leading curb market stocks generally closed 1 to 3 points lower today, but trading continued exceptionally dull and represented little more than the activity of floor traders scalping for profits of a point or two. Commission house business was practically at a standstill. Sales aggregated 865,600 shares.

Professional traders who have been bidding stocks moderately higher during the past few days were prompted to switch to the short side primarily by technical market considerations. There was practically nothing in the day's news to influence the market

Most of the industrials and specialities sagged, although Lily Tulip Cup was bid up about 3 points to a new high, and aviation securities jumped 4 points to 19, equaling the year's best level. Louis Phillips Class B stock also duplicated its 1930 peak, selling up about a point. Aluminum Company lost 5 points, and Deere new stock. Anglo-Chilean, Crocker Wheeler and Driver Harris lost 2 or 3 points. Winton the figure depoped 5 points in a few sales, evidently reflecting profit-taking on announcement of acquisition by General Motors. Brillo and National Candy touched new 1930 lows.

In 'Sergeant Grischa'

Alec B. Francis, Jean Herscholt and other famous performers do magnificent work. But chief honors must go to Herbert Brenon, the director. He has done something new, something artistic, something beautiful because true. Just as he did in "Beau Geste" and in "Sorrell and Son." For the credit of Atlanta, and to encourage a picture-maker who dares to violate the accepted traditions, it is to be hoped that the Fox box office will tell a happy story at the end of next week.

$5,000,000 Estate Is Left to Charities

"Sergeant Grischa" is coming to the Fox audible screen next week. To you who have read the book, that amazingly frank novel containing the most searing condemnation of war and all its injustice, it will be good news to know that the film version follows the plot of the story with remarkable fidelity.

Seeing "The Case of Sergeant Grischa" at a preview on Thursday morning, the reaction at the end was that, at last, here was a picture that dared to be realistic, that had the bravery to tell a story without twisting its plot for the sake of censors or to please the least intelligent among its audiences. Here is a picture that follows the logic of its situations to the end, no matter how bitter and heart-rending that end may be.

Chester Morris, Betty Compson, Alec B. Francis, Jean Herscholt and other famous performers do magnificent work. But chief honors must so with the fold Colony Trust Company of Boston. The net income to be paid to charitable and altruistic purposes as directed by a committee.

Capitol Theater Gives Extra Show Tonight at 11:30

Manager Carter Barron, of Loew's Capitol theater, announced late Thursday right that, in an effort to accomodate the hundreds who had been unable to secure seats to see and hear Norma Shearer in "The Divorcee," he would run a special midnight show, would run a special midnight show, starting at 11:30 on Friday night, after the close of the regular last show of the day.

This is the first time any Atlanta theater has been compelled to run a midnight show in the middle of the week to take care of the crowds anxious to witness the feature attraction.

tion.

Manager Barron is wishing, this week, that his theater had a larger, seating capacity, as it has been utterly impossible to admit all who have sought to see "The Divorcee." Thursday he increased the number of his performances for the day from three to four, but even this failed to relieve the situation appreciatively. Again hundreds were nerforce tuned away. hundreds were, perforce, turned away from the box office after the house had been filled to capacity for each performance.

So today he will again run four complete shows, doors opening at 11:45 this morning for the first, with the 11:30 p. m. run of the feature picture in addition.

THE JAS. P. SIMPSON CO., Inc., Presents in the Movies

"A WORLD OF FUN AT MOONEY'S"

During the next ten weeks on the screens of Atlanta Popular Community theatres will be "made in Atlanta" movies of Atlanta's most popular and recreational swimming pool. Thrilling

water sports, trolleys, toboggans and many other water activities will be included in the scenes of this film, showing where to spend your leisure hours this summer. See this film in your neighborhood theatre, and then journey out to Mooney's Lake,

just off Piedmont Road between Atlanta and Buckhead, to enjoy these sports in the cool and refreshing artesian water of

Did you know that over 200 gallons of fresh artesian water every minute pouring into Mooney's Lake was the secret of the clean water and refreshing appearance at the lake? See this artesian waterfall by a trip to Mooney's for your next swim.

Mooney's Lake.

Sixty thousand actual readers will see and read about Mooney's again for the third year in the neighborhood theatres. These films made and presented by "Simpson Service" have borne results and increased attendance at Mooney's

Lake and consequently a renewal of moving

picture advertising year after year is an adopted

policy at Mooney's.

Aviation Securities Gain 4 Points for Year's High

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER, Associated Press Financial Editor. NEW YORK, May 15.—(P)—Lead. NEW YORK. May 15.—(P)—Leading curb market stocks generally closed 1 to 3 points lower today, but trading continued exceptionally dull and represented little more than the activity of floor traders scalping for profits of a point or two. Commission house business was practically at a standstill. Sales aggregated 865,600 shares.

Professional traders who have been bidding stocks moderately higher during the past few days were prompted ting the past few days were prompted to switch to the short side primarily by technical market considerations.

There was practically nothing in the General Motors. Brillo and National

There was practically nothing in the day's news to influence the market either way.

Electric Bond & Share was heavily sold, dropping about 4 points, and American Superpower lost a point in active trading. American Gas & Electric, American Light & Traction and North American Power & Light lost a point sin small turnovers, and Nevada-California Electric had one of its wide moves, losing 13 points in Insurance Securities dropped neally 4. of its wide moves, losing 13 points in a sout 3 points to a new high at 30 a few sales. United Gas new stock points to 17, its 1930 minimum, in active and closed fractionally higher, and Missouri-Kansas-Texas Firemen's Fund lost 9 points.

Pipe Line, also a natural gas issue, was again firm. Most of the industrials and special-to please the least intelligent among its audiences. Here is a picture that follows the logic of its situations to the end, no matter how bitter and heart-rending that end may be.

Chester Morris, Betty Compson. Alec B. Francis, Jean Herscholt and other famous performers do magnificent work. But chief honors must go to Herbert Brenon, the director. He has done something new, something artistic, something beautiful because true. Just as he did in "Beau Geste" and in "Sorrell and Son." For the credit of Atlanta, and to encourage a picture-maker who dares to violate the accepted traditions, it is to be hoped that the Fox box office will tell a happy story at the end of next a happy story at the end of next tion.

Manager Barron is wishing, this week, that his theater had a larger seating capacity, as it has been utterly impossible to admit all who have sought to see "The Divorcee." Thursday he increased the number of his performances for the day from three to four, but even this failed to relieve, the situation appreciatively. Again the situation appreciatively. Again hundreds were, perforce, turned away from the box office after the house had been filled to capacity for each

So today he will again run four complete shows, doors opening at 11:45 this morning for the first, with the 11:30 p. m. run of the feature picture in addition.

With "The Garden of Eden" achieving an overwhelming popular success at the Erlanger theater this week, Director Harry E. McKee has had the courage to offer a play of entirely different type next week. The Erlanger Theater Players, finest of resident production companies, are now busy putting the finishing rehearsal touches on a charming production of "Jerry" or next week.

ATHENS-MACON ROAD TO BE PAVED IN 1931

State highway No. 129, from Athens to Macon, will be graded this year and paved in 1931, J. W. Barnett, chairman of the state highway board, announced Thursday. The contract for the project is now being considered, but has not yet been assigned a date.

The completion of the highway, the highway board chairman said, will open a new route for tourists from the east to Florida and should bring hundreds of tourists through Athens, Atlanta and Macon who are now taking routes along the edge of the state.

A controversy among the Bibb county commissioners as to the route to be followed by the road was settled by an agreement to leave the to be followed by the road was set-tled by an agreement to leave the matter to the state highway board for decision, Mr. Barnett stated. A right-of-way paralleling the Central of Georgia railroad was selected. Mr. Barnett returned to his office Thursday from a convention of the State Association of County Commis-sioners in Valdosta.

Election of Officers Held At Piedmont Driving Club

Mrs. Haynes McFadden was elected president of the woman's board of Oglethorpe University yesterday afternoon at its meeting at the Piedmont Driving Club, being chosen by unanimous vote of the board. Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of the university, and others expressed their pleasure at her selection. She succeeds Mrs. E. Rivers, who has been president of the board for three successive terms. Other officers elected were: first vice president, Mrs. J. M. High; second vice president, Mrs. William Healey; third vice president, Mrs. Frank Inman; fourth vice president, Mrs. Henry Porter; fifth vice president, Mrs. J. D. Robinson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Christian Clarke; recording secretary, Mrs. l. R. Carlisie; treasurer, Mrs. B. F. Ulmer.

New Directors.

Two new directors were chosen, these being Mrs. E. Rivers and Mrs. Charles A. Conklin. The executive committee of the board, which held a meeting prior to the meeting of the general board, presented Mrs. Rivers with a silver platter in appreciation of her long and very efficient service as president of the board. She has been most active and contributed splendid work for the board. At the uniseent and much of the charm of her personality comes from traits inheritdid work for the board. At the university she is loved in particular by the girl students, for whom many worthwhile undertakings have been done under Mrs. Rivers' administration. The beautifying and fitting out with necessary equipment of larger quarters for the girl students was the major work of the board during the past two years; and the girls have adequate rooms for rest and study at the university.

Dr. Jacobs told of plans for commencement at the board meeting Thursday and the various chairmen reported on the activities of the year. This was the final meeting of the board until the opening of the university in the fall; but the board, as usual, will take part in the commencement exercises and assist the university in the events incident to the closing of he university.

CHILDREN'S STORIES

NOBODY HOME. BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

evening at Piedmont Driving Club.

In every life and every day Doth enter chance a part to play.

Old Mother Nature.

Blarina the Shrew hunts by night and hunts by day. Of course he sleeps some, as all little people must. Howsome, as all little people must. However, he doesn't have any regular time for sleeping. He sleeps when he feels like sleeping, and then as soon as he is awake he is up and on his way. You see, that stomach of his will not allow him to sleep long. He must be hunting something to put into his hunting something to put into his stomach. He is active all winter.

hunting something to put into his stomach. He is active all winter.

Now, in order to satisfy that tremendous appetite, Blarina has to travel about a great deal. He is never still a minute when he is awake. He is always poking that sharp little nose of his into this and that. As a matter of fact, he couldn't live very long without eating. I mean by that, he would starve in a few hours if he could get nothing to put into his stomach. So Blarina is a busy small person.

It just happened that in his travels Blarina came to an old tin can. It was an old gallon oilcan lying on its side. Blarina didn't see it, because his eyes are not good enough to see things; but he smelled it and he touched it with his whiskers. He didn't know what it was, but he carefully felt all along the edges of it, thinking he might find some insects hidden under it. He went all the way around that old tin can and as he went he was very carefully examining it. When he got around to the end he found a hole

So Blarina made himself comforta-ble in the bed of Nancy Meadow Mouse, for of course you know it was Nanny's bed. Then he set him-

He got out of that bed and went all around the inside of that can, examining it carefully.

"This is a queer log," said Blarina to himself. "It doesn't feel like wood; it doesn't smell like wood. I believe I'll go out and hunt outside a while and then come back. There is no knowing when that Meadow Mouse will return and I simply must eat.

Yes, sir, I simply must eat!"
So Blarina the Shrew popped out of that can just the way he had popped into it and a minute later he was racing along one of the little paths that Nanny Meadow Mouse had out through the grass. Nanny was a lucky Meadow Mouse, although she didn't know it. She was lucky in that she was not at home when Blarina called. She was lucky again in that called. She was lucky again in that she was not using the particular little path that Blarina happened to choose. Had she come home while Blarina was there, she would have had a fight. Had Blarina found her on that little path she would have had a fight. Nanny is a good fighter, but, like Danny Meadow Mouse, she would have been no match for Blarina the Shrew, even though he was quite a bit smaller.

Blarina found something else to attract his attention and presently he was so far away from that old can that he didn't give it another thought. Meanwhile Nanny had returned and when she went to her bed of dry grass she was certain that it had been disturbed. "Some one has been here," said she. "I know that some one has been here. I wonder who it could have been."

SANDWICH, England, May 15.—
After a thrilling day's golf at Sandwich, America led and led quite deservedly by three foursomes to one in the Walker cup matches. You never can tell but I should say that this was undoubtedly a winning lead.
Britain, however, has one consolation in winning the first match. Tolley and Wethered won from Voight and Von Elm at the last hole in as great a foursome as any ever played. Otherwise America played beyond a question the better golf, steadier, sounder and with greater margin of error and fewer crooked shots.

a question the better golf, steadier, sounder and with greater margin of error and fewer crooked shots.

The weather was just what the visitors wanted, warm with a gentle, balmy breeze. Often have we prayed patriotically for an ice gale and sleet in this match and never once have our prayers been answered.

It was a perfect day and though George Von Elm still wrapped his wrists in mittens, most people were mopping their brows. It was a day fluctuating with ups and downs, with British hopes rising only to be quickly dispelled.

One match was soon written off as a bad debt. Jones and Willing playing second, with the Prince of Wales watching, got off to a flying start against Torrance and Hartley. They won the first three holes and after losing the fourth were 3 up again at the 5th. To give Dobby Jones a start of 3 up is one least hopeful of speculation. f 3 up is one least hopeful of speculation.

We soon decided that this match was finished and we were all too right. Jones and Willing played glorious golf, traversing the round in 72 to lead by 5 strokes. Jones putted beautifully but I think first prize must be given to that relentless and impeccable doctor from Oregon. He never put forward the wrong foot and was steadiness personified.

never put forward the wrong foot and was steadiness personified.

ENGLISH LEAD.

That match was lost, but in the other three England led at the time by a hole or two and all seemed well for us. Especially was this so in the last match when Ouimet and Johnston were 2 down at the 7th hole, and rather lucky not to be 4 down, for Ouimet was hitting some tired old man's shots.

Then came a reversal of English fettune all along the line. Smith and Tolley and Wethered, especially Wethered, began to miss a lot of tee shots and were rather lucky to end only 2 down to Von Elm and Voight. both of whom played beautiful, steady, remorseless golf. So far so good for America. England's score was as blank as the English faces. SEE-SAW GOLF.

After luncheon came a see-saw of fortune. Jones and Willing went further ahead, playing gloriously, and won, 8 to 7. MacKenzie and Moekept noses in front, but Ouimet and Johnston started with a landslide and were 1 down at the 7th after being 3 up. However, age experience and to the sparrows laughing

Now I have cleared the decks to Now I have cleared the decks to talk about a really wonderful match which Von Elm and Veight fought out against Tolley and Wethered. All four men played like heroes, but Tolley was the outstanding figure. He played fine golf and put in thrusts that no skill could parry. Three times at the most crucial moments he holed putts from off the edge of greens over hill and dale. This was lucky, perhaps, but such shots need a man of character with the could be determined by the could be d

Voight, for once missed a putt; and now, looking back on the match, that slip cost them dearly. It did not seem so at the time, when they won the second hole with ease. Then Von Elm hit a poor tee shot and one hole came back. Moreover, from that moment it was the Englishmen who were the fierce hunters and the Americans who were allowed.

cans who were gallantly hunted. THREE PUTTS. Tolley holed out one of his tremendous shots for a three at the fifth and the Americans took three putts at the sixth. The crowd now became so excited that nobody left the match or had any eyes for anything elsenot even for Bobby Jones.

America drew away again at the seventh, but hang! in went another.

seventh, but bang! in went another fearful run-up of Tolley's for a two at the eighth and again all was even. At the tenth England was one up for the first time, and never let go again. But they had to cling on tooth and claw for the transfer of the tran claw, for the two Americans hung nobly to their work.

Hole after hole was halved, and that in very good figures. The two Eug-lishmen were on top and they did not give the Americans many chances to gree the Americans many chances to get in front. Twice on the greens the latter could not quite get advantages which it seemed they might grab. The tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth holes passed fourteenth and fifteenth holes passed and still that one hole divided these two brave pairs of fighters.

At length, at the short sixteenth hole. America had her chance. Voight played a grand shot to within 10 feet of the hole and Wethered was over the green. But the Englishmen got their half, for Von Elm pulled his putt for a two. And still England was

LOUISVILLE, May 15 .- Wayward Boye, cuckoo clocker played Glorious Golf, for this department, has been at Churchill Downs now for several days conducting a straw ballot like the Litry Digest to determine the winner of the Derby Saturday. It is just like Wayward to think of a thing like that. It is the most sensible way to pre-determine the winner. It is every bit as reliable as the Digest's and action is guaranteed in considerably less than three Wayward calls his poll the illiterate heartburn ballot. Wayward is just a scream, isn't he?

GALLANT FOX LEADS.

On the first returns Gallant Fox polled 15,678, with Crack Brigade 1,999, High Foot 25, the Bradley entry 22, Tannery

As soon as Gallant Fox reached Kentucky and the folks found out he had only four legs instead of eight, ballots began to pour in on Tannery, and the Bradleys. The standing day before yesterday was Gallant Fox 21,888, Tannery 20,543, the Bradley entry 12,765, High Foot 2,909, Crack Brigade 2,000. The man who balloted for Alcibiades denied having signed the slip.

This morning heavy returns from the beer-running sections Chicago ran High Foot's total up to 7,222.

Long distance telephone calls from Maryland and New York asked that 1,675 of the votes cast for Crack Brigade be repealed. They just happened to think.

They said Gallant Fox this morning had taken command of the field with 35,111 and Tannery was close with 29,222. Wayward is all excited over his poll idea. He expects to announce the winner of the Derby the same day the 18th amendment is repealed by the Litry Digest.

WAYWARD'S DISCOVERY.

Wayward made an important discovery today through a former cellmate who is working on the Paris pike, near Lex-

It concerned what Edward George Villiers Stanley, seventeenth Earl of Derby, will wear to the Derby. His lordship will wear three large linen handkerchiefs, Wayward is informed. This is just a little detail but very impor-

His lordship has a brisk cold contracted in riding about the Blue Grass looking at stock farms.

Other items of his lordship's attire are not available at present. It was established, however, that his blue suit was at the pressing club late today.

Then came a reversal of English fortune all along the line. Smith and Campbell, our last pair, suddenly presented Ouimet and his partner with three cheap holes and the Americans, like good, sensible golfers, took what the gods and their enemies gave them and finished 3 up.

Holderness and Stout were 2 up and 3 to play against the baby American pair of Moe and MacKenzie and began playing like babies themselves and lost 3 holes to go down in defeat.

PITIABLE FIGURE.

One of the most pitiable figures at the Downs these morning the fourth, six hit singles, one sacrificed and the eighth doubled. Oh, yes, they were hitting the ball, and then "rides" him clear on down to the wire. In this way he works up a magnificent enthusiasm for his choice by Derby week.

CRACKERS LOSE SERIES OPENER TO TRAVELERS

Meadows Goes to Pieces After Good Start; Score Is 10 to 5.

By Ralph McGill.

Two attacks of the running fits struck the Little Rock Travelers. Thursday afternoon at Spiller field. And how those boys can run! Ten of them clattered over the plate to beat the Crackers, 10 to 5.

It was a very humiliating defeat, me hearties, and it left the fan flock in a very sour mood indeed. The Crackers scored five tallies in two brisk little rallies to tie the score at one stage of the game at 5-all.

And then, bigosh if the Travelers didn't have their second attack of the running fits and score five more runs quicker than a cat can wink its eye. Which is very quick.

FIRST APPEARANCE.

It was the first appearance of the Travelers in the local lot and they didn't look at all bad. No club does when it is winning but the Travelers showed enough to make them considered with a serious eye.

They hit that ball for one thing. And for another thing they can run around those bases like a lot of striped cats. They can really pick them up and put them down.

Buck Redfern, Harry Strohm, Poco Taitt and Rose, the outfielder, all former Vols, are good ball players, back in the league again after a so-journ in higher circles of the baseball world. Taitt, from Pocatella, Idaho, where the big potatoes grow, is a real hitter. As is Rose. Also an-other one or two of the boys.

GRIFFIN LOOKS GOOD.

The next pasture always looks the greenest and ball players in another uniform always look better than when they are in your own. All of which leads up to Ivey Griffin, the Little Rock first-sacker. He looked very poorly indeed in a Cracker uniform. The fans yelped for him to be sent away from here.

With the Traveler uniform on his back he looked very good. He was throwing them to third base and he was fielding as well as he always could. Which is very good.

Lee Meadows started for the Crackers. He went along smartly for three innings. And then he went all to pieces just like the Deacon's wonderful one-hoss shay. The Deacon's wonderful one-hoss shay. The very joint all at one and the same time.

SINKS IN FOURTH.

Nick Dumovich followed him to the mound and pitched good ball for two and two-thirds innings. The Crackers scored two runs in the sixth, however, and had the bases full. Dumovich came out in favor of Langford as a pinch hitter. He got in the tying run with a long fly to centerfield that registered as a sacrifice. Sheehan couldn't keep the scoring going, making the third out.

Joe Kiefer took the rubber at the start of the seventh. Andy Messenger was due to serve in the relief role but he was not on the bench, having had a tooth pulled in the morning and feeling too ill to play in the after-noon. Kiefer had worked almost seven innings on Tuesday and was

Kentucky's Backing Him

This is Tannery, a Kentucky hoss, who'll be running around the track Saturday afternoon when they haul out the 56th Kentucky Derby. While the east has been shouting about Gallant Fox, Kentuckians have been looking Tannery over, decided they liked him and on this colt, owned by E. R. Richard, is going the blue grass money.

Tannery is considered a much better mud horse than Gallant Fox, although the Preakness winner has never really been tested on a bad track. The sun came out late today after considerable rain, but the forecast is for unsettled weather.

GET ATTENTION Gallant Fox and Tannery Outstanding Horses, Says Danforth. By Ed Danforth.

ROYAL VISITOR

AND EARL SANDE

Constitution Sports Editor.
LOUISVILLE, May 15.—Two orses and two men are dominant figres as the prodigious spectacle of the ifty-sixth Kentucky Derby is being ssembled tonight. The two horses are Gallant Fox and Tannery.

The two men are Earle Sande and Lord Derby. Rarely has the human element so rongly vied with the equine in weaving the vast racing tapestry. Gallant Fox, idol of the east, unbeaten as a three-year-old, is the favorite to win. Tannery, a product of the blue-grass itself, is considered the colt that must be beaten.

TWO-HORSE RACE. The race itself is forecast by experts to be a contest between these two and might actually develop into a battle in the stretch down to the wire and a close finish. Earle Sande, the premier, American jockey, will have the leg up on Gallant Fox. That accounts in part for his being the popular choice.

Sande can ride as no other pig-

Sande can ride as no other pigskin artist in the country today. He is the master of every rider in the field. Racewise critics say his perch in the saddle of Gallant Fox means six lengths of racing to his mount and a terrific mental hazard to the other jockeys.

Sande can make a poor horse dangerous and on Gallant Fox he will be piloting anything but a poor horse.

FAMED VISITOR.

Lord Derby, the Englishman whose family gave the name to the British turf classic, will be a spectator. He will sit in a special pagoda built on the clubhouse lawn nearest the granustand end. The pagoda has glassides and a small platform in front to permit his lordship and party to come out to watch the race.

Thus the seventeenth Earl of Stanley will be in full view of the crowd all afternoon. It would be crediting an American crowd with far the class indifference than it possesses to say that Lord Derby will share in the general attention.

He and his party will equal, if not attention.

He and his party will equal, if not

He and his party will equal, it not surpass, the race in exciting notice. Not since Frank James, brother of Jesse James, the outlaw, watched the great race between Spokane and Pretor Knott in 1889, has a personate on the track challenged the thorougheds for public interest.

PUBLIC HEROES. I hope no international ill feeling grows out of that comparison. The parallel is shown to prove how cath-olic we are in nominating our public

So with two great horses and two great men down stage, the Derby spectacle promises to be one that none will forget.
Gallant Fox is a tremendous blood bay colt, impressive in gait and bearing. He won only two out of seven races as a 2-year-old, but this year won a preliminary heat and then captured the Pseakness stakes in impressive style with the great Sande in the saddle.

sive style with the great Sande in the saddle.

Gallant Fox had to work his way out of a pocket and win the stretch. His opposition was fairly good. Since being shipped to Kentucky he has been shown to be in fine physical condition, but his workouts have not been satisfying to some critics.

Tannery has a great record as a 2-year-old, winning five out of eight starts. He won both his races this year in brilliant fashion. The colt is about as big as Gallant Fox and of a blond chestenut color. Truly he is an eyeful. Bill Garner, cousin of the famous Mack Garner, will ride him. Bill is not considered a match for Sande, but he is a courageous boy and one of the best of the youngen set.

FULTON FAVORED.

FULTON FAVORED.

Fulton High, runner-up to the Smithies, should not have much trouble with Decatur, since Decatur used their best pitcher Wednesday and played Marist again Thursday afternoon in a postponed game. Norton struck out 20 batters Tuesday against G. M. A. in a game which ended in a 4-to-4 tie as rain caused a halt. Coach Hope will probably send city prepieted Thursday afternoon against Decatur and save Norton for the final game next week against Russell and Boys High.

Commercial and University are both in the second division of the league with apparently no chance to get into the first. Both teams have proved the league's most consistent in-and-outers. Commercial stopped Marist after the Beanmen had started off like wildfire. Only one more, week remains to be played in the prep circuit and nine postponed games remain to be played, a majority of which were from the first half, caused by bad weather. Tech High will play University a double-header next Tuesday to catch up in its games. Fulton still has a postponed game with G. M. A. and Armstrong, G. M. # EXPERTS LIKE MAX'S ABILITY TO PUNCH HARD

German Expected To Wear Sharkey Down With Right Hand.

By Robert Edgren.

NEW YORK, May 15 .- The socker n the ring is always dangerous. The fancy, scientific boxer can pile up a big lead for eight or nine rounds and then be defeated by a single solid wallop on a vital spot. Early dope on the Jack Sharkey-Max Schmeling bout at Yankee stadium in New York next month veers in the Bostonian's favor. Perhaps regard for the home contestant has something to do with the making Sharkey the favorite, but veteran followers of the ring are displaying plenty of respect for the German.

Anyone who can hit as hard as Max Anyone who can in as hat as hat as is deserving of serious consideration. Some critics say Schmeling can hit hard only with his right; which for K. O. purposes one hand is usually sufficient. The German's devastating right was more than enough to send Johnny Risko to sleep, the first time the Clayeland rubber man had the Cleveland rubber man had

DISLIKES PUNCHERS.

Now Sharkey has always shown great esteem for hard hitters. The former gob has seldom displayed any liking for opponents who rock 'em when they sock. Sharkey's idea of an ideal opponent is the Phil Scott model. If Schmeling starts out aggressively and carries the fight to Sharkey, then the Boston Gob is not apt to be at his best. He never has been under similar conditions. Schmeling der similar conditions. Schmeling not only possesses considerable of Dempsey's facial expression but also fights in the slam-bang style of the former champion. There is considerable doubt whether Schmeling will not be adversely af-fected after a year's lay-off from fightfected after a year's lay-off from fight-ing. The German says he will be better than ever—that he has worked faithfully during his sojourn in Ger-many. Maybe so, but the best way for fighters to keep in trim is by actual competition in the ring and not syn-thetic drills in gyms.

MAXIE'S CONDITION.

Only the bout itself will determine Schmeling's real physical condition. Outward appearances are too misleading. Dempsey himself furnished a costly illustration when he trained for his first battle with Gene Tunney at Philadelphia. In those Atlantic City workouts Dempsey looked in magnificent condition, but was more of the well-known hollow shell after going a few rounds with the ex-Marine. a few rounds with the ex-Marin schmeling is quite frank about his Schmeling is quite frank about his chances with Sharkey, which is another Dempsey characteristic. There is an intangible something wrong with the club. Only two or three of the members are looking as if they were hustling. This reporter knows that the club is hustling but only a few appear to be. The others might show a little more evidence of dash and ginger. The club lacks color but could gain some if the players cared to develop a little. ## 3 Jackets Enter Conference Meet sorth Carolina was an early favorite to take the conference championship won last year by Louisiana State. The Tarheels have entered a delegation of 28 men, many of whom already have been pointed out as probable first placers because of performances in dual meets of the season. L. S. U. will send 26 entries.

Georgia Tech's entries in the annual Southern conference track and field championships, slated for Birmingham this afternoon and to-morrow, left Atlanta Thursday afternoon for the meet.

The latter has a fine chance along with Mississippi A. & M. to take second place this year. The Tigers beat out the Tarheels last year by less than 3 points and by virtue of a large squad captured the title in 1928 without winning a first place.

FOX-LONDOS GO

No other wrestling match ever scheduled for Atlanta has caught the fancy of Atlanta's mat fans as has the Charley Fox-Jim Londos match scheduled for the Auditorium next Tuesday night.

A demand for ringside tickets has already started, indicating that the fans want to be close when the Greek champion meets the man who has been demanding a Greek for an opposite the control of the cont ponent for more than four months of wrestling. Charley Fox, who was boiled some ten or more minutes years ago, is one of the roughest men in the ring today. He doesn't bar anything and the referee is a very busy man when Fox is in the ring. He may be busy at any minute trying to pull off an ear or minute trying to pull off an ear or gouge out an eye.

That is why the mat fans want his gore. They want to see Charley Fox murdered. Not actually, of course, but if some wrestler can come near it he will receive the enthusiastic plaudits of the ringside and the gallery. They want to see Charley Fox, the braggart who makes good his boasts, subdued, really subdued.

dued.

They saw him lose to Pete Sauer, but they saw him give Sauer a match that was the most spectacular thing ever seen here and one in which Sauer's edge was very small. There was something atavistically attractive in that match—something thrilling to see as two giants threw off all restraint and let go with all they had. Matches are like that when Fox is in there.

"I want Thees Jeem' Londos," said Pet. .500 .457 "I want 'Thees Jeem' Londos,' said Fox. "I want a match with him. I'll make him cut out all that fancy stuff. I'm not worried about Jim Londos. Jones about ruined him and I'll complete it."

Londos remains the favorite. He should win from Fox. He probably will but Atlanta mat fans know that unless Charley Fox breaks a leg early he will give Jim Londos the hardest physical test he has had. That's why they are already clamoring for tickets near the ring.

ing for tickets near the ring.

Paul Jones, Atlanta's favorite and one of the finest men in the wrestling game, comes back in the semi-windup with Cowboy Hewitt as an opponent. Hewitt is a good test for Jones and the match should be a good one. Jones lost no friends when he lost to Jim Londos. His showing in that match did not indicate that Londos enjoyed any great edge over him. enjoyed any great edge over him.

Tickets will go on sale this week at the Piedmont Hatters and the Candler building soda fountain. Ladies will be admitted to any seat in the house for 75 cents. Promoter Henry Weber has not raised his prices despite the fact that he has had to produce a large guarantee to bring Londos back again.

FORMBY, England, May 15.—
Glenna Collett, playing an excellent brand of golf, today went into the final round of the British women's golf championship. However, she fought two fierce battles with defending British girls who forced her to the 18th green, morning and afternoon, and several times threatened to send her home the loser.

She defeated Hilda Cameron, of Associated Press Staff Writer.

Diana Fishwick, who contests with Miss Collett for the championship over a stretch of 36 holes tomorrow, won her way to the finals by defeating Daisy Ferguson, of Ireland in the morning and Kathleen MacDonald in the afternoon.

While the betting odds favor the American, because of her greater ex-perience, Miss Fishwick is generally conceded an excellent chance.

Miss Hicks putted poorly and lapses on the green chiefly were responsible for the fact that she was five down at the tenth hole. Miss Collett found herself unable to get ahead of Miss Cameron on account of the Scotch girl's good putting. The most sensational shot of the day's play was contributed by Miss Cameron when she holed a 25-yard niblick shot from a trap.

WYNN, COWGILLE

Wynn and Cowgille, of the Sears, Roebuck and Company tenpin bowling league, took the lead Thursday night in the five-man team competition for city championship honors in the first annual tenpin tournament on the Atlanta bowling alleys. The Sears, Roebuck doubles team rolled 1,190 pins, including a 138-pin handicap. Second place honors were won by Armstrong and Beale, with Davenport and Fulwiler third. The latter two teams were members of the local traffic of the Western Union league.

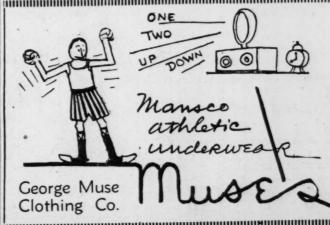

High score for the night in the five-man team was won by team No. 5 in the City league, with 2,804 pins. The local traffic team of the Western Union league is still leading with 2,930 pins, rolled Wednesday night.

Only a few of the singles have been completed and another round of the singles, doubles and five-man teams will be completed tonight. The final averages will be made after each of the nine events have been completed.

The Kentucky Derby, The Greatest Single Sporting Event in North America.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., "May 15.—The long parade that began with Aristides, the "little red hoss" some 56 years ago, will add a new name Saturday afternoon, as another Kentucky Derby winner lifts some 80,000 or more highly emotional spectators up to the last turn of ex-

By Herb Clark.

As a grand finale to the college athletic festivities for the present year, soon to be classed with the late lamented. Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia will take up their cudgels this afternoon and Saturday to draw their own conclusions to the annual baseball argument.

The debate, doped as anything but a friendly affair, is to get under way at 4 o'clock, on the new Rose Bowlield at the Flats.

The Bulldogs already hold two of the judges' votes on the annual series. The Bulldogs took the two Athens divisions of the fracas without straining over-hard last week. The Bulldogs hope to repeat here. The Bulldogs hope to repeat here. The Bulldogs may.

So,000 or more highly emotional spectators up to the last turn of excitement.

Who will be in front? Will it be Gallant Fox, ridden by the brilliant Sande? Crack Brigade, Tannery, High Foot or a Bradley entry? Or possibly some outside choice? Gallant Fox is a heavy favorite but as Mack Garner says there are many, many ways to lose a horse race. And if the track is muddy Saturday afternoon there may be several new ways added.

Louisville today is the cauldron of sport on the western continent. The Kentucky Derby remains the greatest single sporting classic of North America when all the elements and ingredients involved are taken into consideration—sport, society, tradition, crowds, excitement and what ever else is needed to keep a big crowd steamed up for two days in advance.

The arrival of Lord Derby, for one of whose ancestors the race was named, only adds to the sporting and the social combination and helps to make this blue grass derby one of the greatest of them all.

Bulldegs may.

LAST CHANCE.

On the other hand, the Jackets should by this time have had enough of bowing to any and all opponents especially the Bulldegs—on the various sports fields. The pair of games here offer the Jackets their last chance of the year to do something toward alleviating the pitful aspects of the past year, athletically

The Kentucky and the English derbies differ in many respects. One is the arrival of the crowds. The London derby may draw from 500,000 to 800,000 spectators and you can see many of these starting from outside points two weeks away to be on hand when the big British classic

Racing followers who are none too well off in worldly goods may start from the north of Scotland or from the south of England to walk to London.

Every known form of vehicle can be seen along the road. They walk, they ride, they fly. Both land and air are full of roads that wind their Most of the crowds here are coming in by train and motor.

There are special trains from the east, the south and the west. Every Kentucky highway seems to be a massed line of motor cars and this massed line will remain unbroken up to noon on Saturday. With fair weather Saturday all attendance records may be broken,

Coach Bill White's crew is ready to go. Each man is in good conditions, from the ambitious and devastating sophomores to the sad-eyed seniors. Sad-eyed because this will be

The eminent jockey believes he is riding a great horse, a better horse the eastern contingent thinks the Preakness winner is. It has been said by more than a few that even a pretty good horse should be

The play of Glenna Collett and Hicks.

The play of Glenna Collett and Helen Hicks in the British women's championship which comes to an end Friday has been a fine mixture of good golf and stout-hearted fighting.

Both were thrown into the turmoil of hard matches where only exceptional nerve control could get them into the borderland of closing rounds. Miss Hicks' play deserves a world of commendation for this was the first invasion by the young Long Island miss and first invaders of British golf, male or female, rarely get far

Prep Swimmers In State Meet

Three Atlanta prep swimming teams, Boys' High, Tech High and G. M. A., will leave at noon today for Gainesville, Ga., where they will take part this afternoon and tonight in the annual G. I. A. A. swimming championship, in the Riverside Milinoon and the finals and special events will take place at 7:30 o'clock to-

Five teams have already entered the events which will be held under the direction of Bobby Hooks, coach of the Riverside boxing, wrestling and swimming teams. In addition to the Atlanta entries, Savannah High and Riverside have definitely entered, and Riverside have definitely entered, and it is likely that two other teams will enter today.

Boys' High won the championship last year in both the city prep and G. I. A. A. meets and is favored to win the meet again this year. The Purple Hurricane recently won the city meet in the Atlanta Athletic Club pool with several points to spare and have one of the best prep swimming teams ever collected in the wimming teams ever collected in the state.

Tech High and G. M. A. have strong entries and will win some of the first places. Riverside is reported to have a strong team and Savannah High is reported to have a strong swimming team.

Smithy Trackmen Go To Asheville

Eight members of the Tech High track team left the city Thursday night for Asheville, N. C., where they will take part this afternoon in an annual invitation track and field meet being sponsored by Asheville High school and the Asheville Junior Chamber of Commerce. Coaches Kopf and Collins will accompany the team to North Carolina, which is as follows: Bullington, King, Cobb, Whitfield, Tolve, Clark, Moore and Morrison.

Bullington, who won both the hurdle events in the G. I. A. A. will enter those two events. Cobb will run the dashes and King will be the distance man. Tolve will represent the Smithies in the field events.

· FINAL PERIOD SEES EACH NINE SCORE 2 RUNS

Fine Fielding Marks Long-Winded Affair Halted by Darkness.

PENSACOLA, Fla., May 15.—(P) Tampa and Pensacola battled 18 innings to a 3-to-3 tie today, darkness halting the game. The Fliers tied the score in the ninth with a rally and again knotted the count in the eigheenth, on Tom Pyle's double after the Smokers had scored two runs in their half.

Sharp started for Pensacola but was succeeded by Chambers for a pinch hitter in the ninth. Roy Appleton, of the Smokers, was batted out of the box by the Fliers in the ninth and Devaney pitched effectively.

sought in vain to come to accord on the subject.

The conference ended with adoption of a plan to continue the seminary idea as a means of combating religious conflict. But it also recognized basic differences in the religious that would prevent a union. Closer contacts between members of the three faiths, socially as well as in church and community matters, also were urged.

Taking off his shirt he took care to keep it always around and concealing the object of his suspicio solicitude. This very carefulness aroused a natural curiosity in Mugambi's mind. In the nervousness of overcaution the Belgian fumbled and dropped the hidden article. Mugambi was no unsophisticated savage. He had been to London with his master. and, besides, he was a shrewd and intelligent man. The jewels of Opar rolled, scintillating, before his astonished eyes.

1473 ALLENE AVENUE, Capitol View, reconditioned throughout; a bargain. WAL

Mugambi recognized them for what they were. Furthermore, he recognized something else, too, that interested him far more deeply than the value of the stones. He recognized that leathern pouch! Often he had seen it dangling at the side of Tarzan of the Apes. Werper saw that Mugambi had seen the pouch and the jewels. Hastily he gathered them both up, while Mugambi, assuming an air of indifference, strolled down to the river for his bath.

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

and chagrined to discover that his huge, black prisoner had escaped during the night, while Werper was terrified for the same reason, until his trembling fingers discovered the pouch still in its place beneath his shirt, and within it the hard outlines of its contents. It was not until several days were to clapse that the Belgian was to find that what he thought were the jewels of Opar had mysteriously turned to little, smooth pebbles!

Ernest G. Beaudry

Authorized Ford Dealer

Never before during my 14 years operating in Atlanta as an authorized Ford dealer have I had to offer to the public a finer assortment of reconditioned used cars of all types as I have at this time. The prices are ridiculously low and far below their market value. I also have an attractive proposition to used car dealers.
